Automobile
Tourist Hotel Is Projected for Glendale

IN a short time the citizens of Glendale will be asked to lend their support in the formation of a company which plans to erect an automobile tourist hotel.

While this makes the fourth hotel project now being talked of for Glendale, its plan of construction and operation is such as to make it distinctive and it should not come in competition, other than in a general way, with any other hotel now being promoted.

WHILE local people will be asked to aid in the financing, it is planned that the operation be taken over by an operating company, which in conjunction with the Glendale auto tourist hotel, will have a chain of like hotels, located about a day's trip apart. This will enable a tourist to be routed from one hotel to another in the chain.

Los Angeles county has been set aside as a center in other words, the mecca of the tourists, and probably three of these hotels will be built in the territory surrounding the city of Los Angeles.

Glendale is fortunate in possessing the necessary qualifications to be selected as one of the chain of these hotels, for undoubtedly it will be the means of bringing a large number of tourists here.

ALHAMBRA was also chosen as a favored locality and the building of the hotel there has become a reality. In Alhambra, as one of the units, the palatial home of C. M. Clark, known as the Casa de la Palma, was purchased, and this will be used as the community center for the other buildings of the group.

The plan suggested for Glendale is to build a group of two-story units, around an open court, with a larger building at one end, in which will be located a lobby, dining room and a general community center building for use of the patrons of the entire plant. The other buildings will have single rooms, suites and apartments, garages for the apartments and suites will be built as a part of each unit and separate garages for the single rooms.

THE entire plant will be fireproof and modern in every way and would occupy about two acres of ground. When the traffic going through Glendale is taken into consideration it looks as if a proposition such as this would be of great benefit to our city.

A careful check of automobiles passing a given point on San Fernando road on a week day was taken a few days ago and it was found that 7200 cars had passed in 12 hours and quite a large percentage of these were foreign cars, which means they were driven either by tourists or recent arrivals.

IN Alhambra the project was promoted by the community in general, the campaign being staged entirely by local citizens. The Kiwanis club and the Alhambra chamber of commerce took the lead.

If the proposed plan is accepted by the local committee of the chamber of commerce as being sound, we think the project would merit the support of our citizens in general, for there is very little doubt but that the need of such a plant is evident and it would prove of great benefit to our city.

THE local committee on organization appointed by the chamber of commerce consists of the following Glendale business men: H. M. Butts, Lloyd H. Wilson, W. H. Hooper and Robert Jensen.

Glendale Camp of Spanish Veterans Hold Good Meeting

The Glendale Camp of Spanish War Veterans and Women's Auxiliary, held business sessions Wednesday night at the K. of P. Hall which were followed by a joint social session at which speeches were made and refreshments were served by the ladies of the auxiliary. Both organizations elected delegates and alternates to the convention to be held at Riverside May 14, 15 and 16, the delegates of the Glendale Camp being: Commander W. C. Mabry, City Manager Reeves, Cameron Thom, Frank E. Peters, Messers, Pike and Young; the alternates being G. Harness and Sam Warren.

Alternates elected by the auxiliary were: President, Mrs. Baby Schmitt, Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, Mrs. Martha Warren, Mrs. Sophie Gray; the alternates being Mesdames Mary R. Hill and Viola Peters.

GAMBLING IN SUGAR ENDED BY THE U. S.

Federal Government Enjoins Trading in Futures

ON EXECUTIVE ORDER

Exchange Charged With Conspiracy in Restraint of Trading

[By Associated Press]
WASHINGTON, April 19.—Injunction proceedings to shut off trading in sugar futures, unless backed by actual ownership or control of sugar, were instituted in New York today by the Federal government.

The government's bill, prepared under the personal direction of Attorney General Daugherty, after consultation with President Harding, asks the court to permanently prevent the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange from entering into or permitting any transactions in sugar "unless the person purporting to make such sale has in his possession or under his control a supply of sugar adequate to meet the requirements of such transaction."

The action is requested, the government says, as a result of "an orgy of speculation," which has driven up the price of sugar to the consumer and which during February enriched the pocketbooks of brokers by $900,000.

A "conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce," is charged, and officials of the exchange and of the New York Coffee and Sugar clearing house association, against which the injunction was directed jointly with the exchange and to appear in court and answer the government's allegations.

SUGAR DROPS MANY

POINTS ON REPORT

[By Associated Press]
NEW YORK, April 19.—Raw sugar futures took a perpendicular drop of approximately 50 points on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange today upon receipt of word of the government's suit to enjoin trading in sugar futures.

Heavy selling developed as soon as news of the injunction was reached the floor. Drops ranged from 30 to 74 points but were followed by a rally which carried prices back 35 points.

Cuban raw sugar, however, sold at a new high record since 1920. A sale of 5500 bags was made to one operator at 6 3/8 cents, cost and freight, equal to 8 1/8 cents for centrifugal.

'BUY A BADGE' IS HIGH NOTE OF REBEKAS

Slogan Signals Drive for 104th Anniversary Event

Besides important work in connection with the initiation of 11 new members and the reception of 11 others by the transfer, the Carnation Rebekah lodge at a big meeting held Tuesday evening adopted as its slogan: "Buy a Badge," in connection with the great celebration of the 104th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship, April 28, at which the Glendale organizations expect to entertain in the Glendale-Verdugo park 1200 delegates from lodges of Southern California.

Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, Noble Grand, who presided at the meeting, told of the splendid co-operation of other Glendale organizations, how the city council, which has granted the use of Glendale-Verdugo park for the day's celebration, is assisting in other ways, as is also the Chamber of Commerce, and the leading merchants have agreed to decorate their places of business for the day. Ralphs building, in which the Odd Fellows have their headquarters, will, of course, lead in decoration. Mrs. Schwitters stated that R. E. Tucker, head of Community Service, had agreed to assist her in taking charge of the program of games for the day, and all Glendale seemed ready to co-operate through the buying of badges at 25c to defray the expense of the celebration.

D. A. Hall, chairman of decoration, reported splendid work done in preparation for the big event.

THIEVES LOOT

HEINTZELMAN HOME

Thieves entered the home of S. W. Heintzelman, 1147 East California, at about 9 o'clock last night and took a number of articles of value. Officers Kerns, Flemming, Arner and Black were detailed. They searched the neighborhood, but the offenders could not be located.

President Harding Favors National Play Week Program

The White House,
Washington, D. C.
March 3, 1923.

My dear Mr. Lee:
I am glad that America is to have a Play Week, the last week of April.

The vital, basic importance of play is now quite generally appreciated. Play is the sculptor which shapes the life of the child. He confides his dreams to his play and becomes what his play is.

This is also true enough of adults to make us seriously concerned for the recreational life of America. We must make the play time of all children and the free time of all the rest of us richer, more satisfying, more ennobling.

We owe more than we can estimate to the Playground and Recreational Association of America for the service it has given for seventeen years to cities and towns throughout our country to help them develop effective playgrounds and recreation centers for children and for adults.

During Play Week especially, I trust that those who love children and youth and the forward-looking ideals of American life will co-operate with you very generously.

Very sincerely,
WARREN G. HARDING.

Mr. Joseph Lee, President,
Playground and Recreation
Association of America,
315 Fourth Avenue,
New York City.

FOURTH Y. M. C. A.

'DAD AND SON' BANQUET SET

To Be Held at the Central Christian Church on May First

The fourth annual Y. M. C. A. "fathers and sons" banquet will be held Tuesday night, May 1, at the Central Christian church.

The speaker will be Dr. Geo. P. Taubman of Long Beach, who is known as the teacher of the largest Bible class of men in the world. This class met at the municipal pier at the beach city until it outgrew its quarters there and now meets at a Long Beach theater, where there is an attendance each Sunday of a class of from 2500 to 3000 men.

This banquet is given every year by the Y. M. C. A. of Glendale, who endeavor to provide fathers for that night for the boys who have no fathers. David Black, president of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors will act as chairman of the evening and will introduce Theodore Haig, the newly elected Hoistmaster, who will act as toastmaster.

PLAY WEEK TAKEN UP BY P. T. A.

Executive Secretary of Community Service Presents Program

DISTRICT MEETING

Nominating Committee Is Appointed; Mrs. Rowley Chairman

At a meeting of the Glendale High School P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon, over which Mrs. W. Q. Widdows presided, the entertainment of the session preceded the business and was provided by Harold Brewster, head of the dramatic section of the English Department. He read an exceedingly clever and amusing bit of English satire on the utility of life.

Mr. Tucker, head of Community Service, gave the program for "National Play Week," which begins Sunday, April 22, when the pastors of the churches have agreed to speak on the place of recreation in the common life. His recited the program of special days arranged by the athletic directors of the grammar and high schools, viz:

Monday, on the high school grounds, athletic tournaments and in the evening wrestling and boxing bouts.

Tuesday evening, neighborhood parties at the Broadway and Grandview schools with bonfires, wienie roasts and a program of entertainment. Pacific Avenue will also have a party but no bonfire.

Wednesday night, the Hollywood Community Chorus will put on a program in the high school auditorium.

Thursday, which will be "Girls' Day," Miss Knight and her assistants in the department of physical education for girls of the high school will direct contests in which several hundred girls will take part including the girls of the two intermediate schools of this city and from other schools tributary to the high school district.

Friday will be "Boys' Day," and will be held at the high school at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Rotary Club, which will be followed by free entertainment at the Glendale Theatre.

Saturday will mark the opening of the swimming pool in Patterson Avenue Park, which will be featured by a boys' swimming meet. The same evening the San Fernando Boulevard Association will celebrate the illumination of the boulevard with the new lighting system and will make provision for a street dance and other diversions.

Mr. Tucker urged everybody to forget his or her age and make a business of playing during the week mentioned, also urging the High School P. T. A. to back the effort of Community Service in that connection.

The treasurer of the association reported a balance in the strong box of $48.04, with the prospect that it would have to be used for the payment of the bill for the sweaters provided for boys of the high school band.

A nominating committee was named of which Mrs. L. T. Rowley was chairman, others members being: Mrs. Wyman, Mrs. Stoff, Mrs. Horner and Mrs. Bailey.

Announcement was made of the district P. T. A. convention to be held in the Walker Auditorium, Los Angeles, April 26 and 27, to which the association would be entitled to send its president and three delegates. It was explained that the Glendale Federation would act as hostesses the first day, providing ushers, pages and decorations. The ladies named as delegates in addition to the president were: Mrs. Searle, Mrs. Puck and Mrs. Whitney.

The question of raising the dues to provide more money for the treasury was raised but no action was taken, sentiment appearing to be against the proposition. As a substitute, Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the federation, mentioned the action taken by Broadway, Colorado and Cerritos Associations, which have formed "fathers' auxiliaries," and with the help secured have greatly improved their finances and stimulated interest.

Mrs. Widdows expressed the hope that similar action might be taken when the high school P. T. A. is able to meet in the new high school building.

Announcement was made that at the May meeting annual reports will be submitted and the report of the nominating committee, that the day will be in charge of the courtesy committee headed by Mrs. H. W. Yarrick, and each member is requested to bring a guest.

CAR IS LOOTED

A robe was stolen from an automobile belonging to C. H. Rande-busch, manager of the Western Auto Supply company, while the machine was standing before the Harriet Mae tea room, corner Harvard and Maryland, at about 8 o'clock last night. Up to this time nothing has been heard of the missing article.

TINY ARTIST IS SOLOIST AT THE EXCHANGE CLUB

Adeline Woodbury, 10 Years Old, Plays the Saxophone

The Exchange club enjoyed an exceptionally fine musical program at its noon luncheon yesterday at the Harriet Mae tea room, corner of Maryland and Harvard. Several out-of-town visitors were also present to add interest to the meeting.

Little Miss Adeline Woodbury, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Woodbury, 225 South Central, favored the club with two saxophone solos, in C Melody and Baritone. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Pansy Corp. Adeline is a wonder on the saxophone and is playing at Grauman's million dollar theatre this week.

Her rendition of the two difficult pieces demonstrated the wonderful ability she possesses.

Kelly's Shrine orchestra was on hand and gave several fine selections. This orchestra is not in the ordinary class, but ranks among the best, and is always appreciated. Kelly volunteered to put in the entire program at a feature meeting, the next session of the club being a business meeting.

Hazel Linkugel on the violin, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Pearl G. Curran on the piano, gave several selections which proved one of the rare treats of the entertainment.

William Neal, national organizer for the Exchange club, accompanied by Mrs. Neal, was present and gave a short talk on the work and aims of the Exchange club. "We have never paid one cent to any man for organizing a club," said the speaker, "and we are the only national luncheon club in existence operating along these lines. We are celebrating our twelfth birthday, but in reality our organization dates back to 1916. There is a demand for an Exchange club in nearly every town, and I am here to help put in clubs, but we do not force a club on any town. It requires only ten members to organize, and after we get our work before the community the rest is easy."

GLENDALE TEAM TO PLAY AT VAN NUYS SUNDAY

Hardest Game in the Schedule to Be Out of Town

The Glendale squad travels to Van Nuys this Sunday for the second game of the Valley League. This game will be the hardest of any game Glendale has played, as the Van Nuys club has officially been named the semi-professional champions of all Southern California. They have beaten every team in the field during the winter season.

Manager Walt Heidler says this will be the real test for the Glendale team. "Walt" has his team out working hard all this week, so they will be in tiptop shape against the "chuck" Sunday line, says each member of the team must put forth his best efforts and play real baseball if the bacon is to be brought home Sunday evening. And by the wonderful "must win" attitude of every player so far, it looks as if real sparks are going to fly at Van Nuys. "Walt" is not sure who will win this contest, but it will be announced later.

The complete schedule of the league is not complete, but will be printed as soon as it is arranged, so the fans will not get confused on the home and traveling games. Anyhow the team is expecting to play every other game at home. A very large crowd of fans will accompany the team to Van Nuys Sunday and Manager Heidler has secured the services of a large truck to accommodate those that have no way to get there. So anyone who cares to go along and help make some noise for the home team should be at the corner of Brand and Broadway at 12-noon Sunday.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Automobiles driven by George Newhouse, 202 North Cedar street, and S. Connolly of this city collided at the corner of Jackson and Colorado at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. No one was injured.

Another accident occurred when machines piloted by Mrs. E. E. Kent, 133 West Acacia, and Dr. H. C. Smith, 201-A West Broadway, came together. The collision occurred at the corner of Brand and California at 9:45 Wednesday morning. The damage was slight.

C. OF C. IS URGED TO ADVERTISE

Realtors Recommend the Budget With Definite Amount of Publicity

URGE AN AD EXPERT

Advantage of Lectures at L. A. Information Bureau Is Presented

That the Glendale Chamber of Commerce should adopt a budget method of operation was the opinion expressed by the members of the Glendale Realty Board at the meeting of that organization held at the C. and S. Cafeteria Wednesday noon. The members expressed the belief that the chief function of the chamber was to advertise Glendale to the outside world.

The opinion was expressed by a number of members of the board that the chamber should adopt a budget system and should set aside a stated amount for advertising Glendale each year.

The following motion, treating on this subject, was made by A. M. Yale and carried:

"That, at the request of the chamber of commerce, the Glendale Realty Board go on record as recommending that the chamber adopt a budget, in which a definite amount be allowed for advertising, and that an expert advertising and publicity man be employed for the purpose of giving publicity to the city, this man to be under the direction of the advertising and publicity committee of the chamber."

Speaking of advertising Glendale in various ways, Mr. W. L. Twining said:

"You can go anywhere around Los Angeles, in any of the waiting rooms or information bureaus, the chamber of commerce or any of the other places where such information should be found and you can find even a pamphlet on Glendale. Glendale should be represented in the lecture that is held daily at the Los Angeles chamber of commerce. All we would have to do to get this publicity would be to produce the slides and the matter for the lecture. The rest would be free."

"The chamber has issued a call for assistance to the Glendale Realty Board, and I believe this organization should do everything it can to support it. Let us get in and give the chamber whatever support we can. I believe we can be of a great deal of help in boosting it along, and it is our duty to do it."

Mr. McCormack gave a lengthy account of his attempt to get publicity for Glendale through the chamber of commerce. Several other members talked on the subject.

At this meeting a communication concerning the membership of the board was received from the state board and filed.

A communication was received from Assemblyman Frank Weller, stating that he would oppose the next of bills with regard to housing in California, when they came before the assembly.

CLASS RALLIES SHAKE HIGH SCHOOL

Prepare for the Inter-class
Oratorical of Tomorrow Morning

There was a pleasant flutter of excitement pervading the air at Glendale high this morning, caused by class rallies for the great inter-class oratorical to be pulled off Friday morning at 10 a. m. in the Glendale theater.

All the classes were having assemblies to practice songs and yells, the freshmen meeting in the auditorium and completely filling it. No better proof could be had of the urgent need of a new auditorium. Seniors were holding the fort in the boys' gym, while another class was occupying the girls' gym.

Great secrecy marked all these events, the smiling teachers co-operating in "keeping everything dark" that competitors might secure no advantage. It is to be hoped the builders of the Glendale theater made the roof secure as it will be severely strained by the yells that are in preparation and which are likely to be voiced in discordant chorus at the utmost lung capacity of the student body.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC DEPOT

TO BE INVESTIGATED

At a meeting of the depot committee of the chamber of commerce, held yesterday afternoon at the office of George Kerr, a sub-committee composed of W. H. Reeves and George Bentley was appointed to make further investigation.

Make Reservations Now for Reciprocity Luncheon at Clubhouse

Tomorrow night, Friday, April 20, all reservations for the Reciprocity day luncheon of the Tuesday Afternoon club will close. Invitations have been sent to the president and one representative from each of the more than 150 women's clubs in this district to attend. In order that the non-section members of the club, who are to serve the luncheon, may know how many to prepare for it is absolutely necessary that all members who plan to attend phone in their reservations to Glendale 2096-W or Glendale 2191-W before tomorrow night. The luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock on Tuesday.

Twilight Baseball League to Be Formed By Community Service

At the meeting of the athletic committee of Glendale Community Service, held yesterday afternoon at the office of R. E. Tucker, local executive secretary, plans were made for a meeting of representatives from various clubs and organizations in Glendale who are interested in forming a twilight baseball league, to be held Wednesday night at 7:15 o'clock at the high school. Any organization or business firm desiring to enter a team should have at least one representative present at this meeting, when a schedule will be worked out and preliminary games arranged.

GLENDALE AVENUE PAVING ORDER IS GIVEN

Mass Meeting of Owners
Declare for Asphaltic
Concrete

Five inches of asphaltic concrete will be used in the paving of Glendale avenue, if the city council follows the recommendation of the property owners living along the thoroughfare. The decision to ask the council to pave the street with this material was reached at a mass meeting of the property owners, held in city hall, Wednesday night.

The decision came as a result of the report of the paving committee of the Glendale Advancement association, which was chosen for the express purpose of deciding the type of paving to be used on Glendale avenue. This committee, which has studied the paving used on streets in various cities of Southern California, decided that the asphaltic concrete type of pavement, the most durable of any examined, was the best, and at the same time is less expensive. When the report of this committee was delivered to the mass meeting by H. L. Finley, the following motion was made to the meeting by Mr. Brown:

"That the report of the paving committee of the Glendale Advancement association be accepted and that the meeting recommend to that organization that 5 inches of some type of asphaltic concrete be used in the paving of Glendale avenue and that such a recommendation be made to the Glendale city council by the paving committee."

Representatives of companies manufacturing five different types of paving were given the opportunity of airing the merits of their products.

Each of these salesmen were given ten minutes in which to point out the merits of his product and was afterward allowed three minutes in which to answer questions.

Peter L. Ferry moved that the street be paved with 5 inches of asphalt concrete, with the center of the road left open for a double track electric line, and eight inches of concrete placed on the edge of the railway's right-of-way. This was seconded by Mr. Levy, but during the discussion that followed the action was so strenuously opposed that Mr. Ferry withdrew his motion.

When asked as to what chance there is of his company laying a double track in the near future, P. L. Hatch, manager of that company, stated that the prospects are that it will be some time before a two-track line will be laid.

In view of this fact the question of leaving the center of the street open and unpaved did not meet with the approval of those at the meeting.

It is known that the paving committee of the Glendale Advancement association was unanimous to last night in favor of Warrenton, but at a preliminary meeting held by that committee it was decided that all types of asphalt should be included so that the makers of all kinds of pavement, having a foundation of asphalt or oil, could submit competitive bids. The findings of this meeting will be submitted to the Glendale Advancement association at noon today and at the meeting of the city council tonight.

FUN REVUE TONIGHT AT CLUBHOUSE

Big Legion Building Fund
Benefit By City Players to Be Given

REAL JAZZ COMEDY

Amateurs Have Worked
Months on Evening's Program

Everything is in perfect shape for the Fun Revue to be produced Thursday and Friday evenings at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium by the Glendale Community players for the Legion building fund. An augmented orchestra of eight pieces rehearsed last night, making the roof ring with peppy, stirring music. Singers, dancers, comedians, all are ready for the show.

It is confidently predicted that this will be the greatest musical comedy ever seen in Glendale, a sure cure for the growth, a real hum-dinger. The director, Nanno Woods, will produce for the first time on any stage, one of her clever songs, "Fish, Fish, Fish." This novel little song, words and music by Mrs. Woods, was practiced by the orchestra with extraordinary enthusiasm.

The grand finale song, "Glendale," will produce a wonderful effect upon the audience and will be whistled and sung in Glendale for many a day after. The Rainbow song and ballet is alone worth the price of admission. The Fashion Cent on Brand on Grand on display in the window one of the beautiful Rainbow costumes; be sure and visit the Fashion windows before Thursday afternoon. The eccentric dance of Raggedy Andy would make even a dyspeptic smile. Taboo, a dainty vocal novelty, is charming in its sweet quaintness. Egyptian, an oriental chorus, with the wonder man from Egypt and Cleopatra as central figures; Splendid, the snake charmer; Bibbo, the midget clown; burlesque dances, popular songs, with Soldier Caruso to sweep the audience off its feet with his magnificent voice rendering "O Sole Mio," are points on the program.

Not a soul in Glendale can afford to miss this show of shows. Thursday and Friday evenings at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, 8:15 p. m.

Five town gossips, with a hen-pecked husband in attendance, will visit the Fun Revue on Thursday and Friday evenings. They come to see the wedding guests and the wedding presents—the weepy widow, the dearest lady, the voluble village seamstress—you will meet them all on the stage at the Fun Revue. Don't miss them.

Did you know Pavlova is coming to Glendale? Yes indeed; she and her partner, Michael Mordkin will be in Glendale on the nights of Thursday and Friday of this week. They have graciously consented to dance at the Fun Revue and say they are a scream. Don't miss this most laughable burlesque skit, one of the features of the musical comedy at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, to be given Thursday and Friday nights on behalf of the American Legion building fund, by the Glendale Community Players. Everybody come.

MONTROSE TO HAVE CHURCH OF ITS OWN

Rev. Cole and Christian Church Committee
Select Site

Rev. Clifford Cole with other members of a special committee, visited Montrose Wednesday and selected a site for a Christian church which is to be built in that community, the site chosen being the corner of Ocean View and Mira Vista, just above the Sparr Heights tract.

This will be the first church erected to serve that growing settlement and it will be under the fostering care of the Glendale organization, the purchase of the lot having been financed by the Christian Missionary society of Southern California.

The first step in the work undertaken will be the organization of a Sunday school, and the building of the church will follow.

SANTA BARBARA REED FURNITURE PRODUCT IS HERE

Big Display of Lambert
Made Goods at 223
South Brand

Wednesday morning Lambert's Reed Store at 223 South Brand boulevard opened as an up-to-date salesroom for rattan furniture and braided rugs with Mr. Lambert in charge.

To visitors Mr. Lambert explained that the goods he is handling are all the output of the rattan works of Santa Barbara which has three retail establishments in Los Angeles, and which has made up its mind that now is the psychological time for a trading post in Glendale, which he is convinced is destined to be a great city.

The goods offered are of fine quality, and in great variety, including easy chairs, rockers, dining chairs, tables, lamps, day beds, etc., also, braided cloth rugs and woven grass rugs from rushes imported from the East Indian Islands where the reeds grow which are used in the furniture.

There are fancy things for out-of-door use made of split bamboo, Chinese baskets and other things of interest, besides the furniture which is made by American workmen who are experts and who are paid at the rate of $7 per day for their skilled labor, in comparison with the basket weavers of China, the most skillful of whom get about 15 cents per day, the pay of the less expert workers graduating down to a few cents a day.

The new shop is attractive and Mr. Lambert is optimistic concerning his business and the future of Glendale.

Essick's Boosters to Visit Pasadena

Glendale boosters for "Kid" Essick, who is known in local sporting circles as "the pride of Glendale," are planning to attend the boxing event to take place tonight at the Pasadena Armory, 105 West Union street, Pasadena, at 8:30 o'clock. The main event of the evening will be the bout between Jimmie Berry and "Dummy" Waller.

The remainder of the program includes the following: Semi-finals, Dick Dickson vs. Danny Herria; "Kid" Essick vs. Sailor Evesco; "Cyclone" Burns vs. Jack Grande; Freddie Gilbert vs. Jack Hearn; Virgil Williams vs. Freddy Klage. Tickets are on sale at the Lunch Box, 103 West Broadway.

SKI-RUNNERS AND SLEDDERS HARNESS AIRPLANE IN NEWEST SPORT

Lawrence B. Sperry, inventor and former army aviator, provided a lot of thrills and spills when he attached steel runners to his messenger plane while demonstrating it at Garden City, L. I. Men on skis and men and women on sleds "hitched on behind" and went dashing over the snow at the rate of thirty miles an hour. Sperry did not rise more than five feet from the ground until he approached woods that surrounded the flying field. Then, as he arose, the ski-runners and sleds were forced to drop the ropes that trailed from the wings of the plane and invariably there was a spill.

The Congregational Organ Recital of Tomorrow Evening

An unusually fine program has been arranged for the concert which will be given on the wonderful new organ of the First Congregational church of Glendale on Friday night, April 20, at 8 o'clock by Dr. Ray Hastings, organist of the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, Mrs. Howard E. Cavanah, contralto soloist of the First Congregational church, and Miss Lilla E. Litch, accompanist organist of the First Congregational church. All music lovers and friends of the church are invited. No admission fee will be charged, but a free-will offering will be taken.

The following numbers are included on the program:

1. Wedding March, "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn).
2. (a) "Aria" D Major (Bach); (b) Pilgrim's Chorus "Tannhauser," (Wagner) requested.
3. "The Magic Harp" (Teale). A fantasia, with manual flourishes in imitation of the harp, but with the melody given out on the pedal bass.
4. Vocal. (a) "Les Trois Prières" French. (Paladilhe). "I prayed for thee, a Father Noster, an Ave Maria, a Credo, that thou mightest be blest" (b) "Psyche" French. (Paladilhe). "I envy all nature, the sun, the winds that caress you, the air you breathe, even the gown that enfolds you."
5. Organ—

- a. "Immortality" (Hastings).
- b. "Fast For Fun" (Hastings).
- c. "Caprice Heroic" (Hastings).
6. Well-known songs arranged for the organ—
- a. "From the Land of Sky-blue Water" (Cadmán).
- b. "Sing, Smile, Slumber" (Gounod).
- c. "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan).
7. Vocal—
- a. "A Legend of Child Jesus" (Tchaikovsky).
- b. Voce di Donna (Italian) "La Gioconda" (Ponchielli). This aria is the song of the blind woman.
8. "March of the Magi Kings" (DuBois).
9. (a) "The Nightingale and the Rose" (Saint-Saens); (b) "Serenade" (Toselli).
10. The Return of Rhamdame's Army, "Aida" (Verdi).

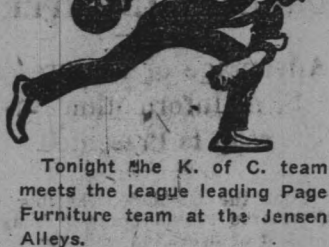

In commenting on the organ Henry Ward Beecher says: "I look upon the history and development of the organ for Christian use as a sublime instance of the guiding hand of God. It is the most complex of all instruments. It is the most harmonious of all. It is the grandest of all. No orchestra that ever existed had the breadth, the majesty, the grandeur that belongs to this prince of instruments."

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HAVE GUEST

Mrs. Anna Weatherby, district deputy, will pay her official visit to the local lodge of Pythian Sisters at the regular meeting of that organization to be held tomorrow, Friday night at 8 o'clock at the K. of P. hall at Park avenue and Brand boulevard. Members of Van Nuys temple and Purty temple of Los Angeles have been invited to attend. A cordial invitation is also extended to any visiting sisters.

Miss Hazel V. Carr, who recently underwent on operation at the Glendale Sanitarium, is said to be doing well.

"GIMME" IS TALE OF DOMESTIC LIGHT COMEDY

It may have been sympathy for the economically dependent wife who is forced to rheedle from her husband every nickel for carfare; or it may have been sheer inspiration that set Rupert Hughes to the creation of his newest photoplay, "Gimme," which was shown at the Glendale Theatre yesterday. Whatever the motive the result is perfect. "Gimme" is one of those light domestic comedy things, seasoned with a good dash of drama, that only Rupert Hughes is so expert in concocting. Though Mr. Hughes directed and edited the production, he divides credit for the scenario with his wife. It cannot be said, however, that one is responsible for all the good portions and the other for all the poor portions—for there aren't any poor portions.

The titles are a delight—but then all of Rupert Hughes' usually are.

BATTLING SIKI COVERING UP IN DUBLIN BATTLE, IN WHICH MIKE McTIGUE WON WORLD'S TITLE

This photograph was made during the twenty-round bout in which McTigue won the world's light-heavyweight championship on a decision. Some critics disagreed with the referee, holding that the Senegalese was entitled to a draw. Siki is shown covering up as McTigue missed by a narrow margin with a right uppercut.

NEW ASSOCIATION TO ENCOURAGE VOTING

"Uncle Sam's Voters" is Latest Organization.
Started in East

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Enlightened voters will rule public affairs and unenlightened voters will be misguided, led and controlled by demagogues." Recognition of this fact is the basis of a new organization for the development of enlightened and active voting at all elections.

Direct participation in governmental affairs by every citizen, old or young, and without distinction of sex, is the object of Uncle Sam's Voters, a national non-profit federation that has just been organized with headquarters in Washington, D. C. It is designed to aid in the solution of local, state, national and international problems by bringing the collective intelligence of the country to bear upon them. As a fundamental step in this process, the organization plans to establish throughout the United States, local assemblies based on the idea of the old-fashioned town meeting.

Governors of all the 48 states will be asked to serve on the advisory board, and representative citizens, men and women from every walk of life, will round out that board to a total membership of 100. In addition to the present voters, special efforts will be made to reach young men and women approaching voting age, and aliens eligible for citizenship. The organization is pledged to the support of popular government and to the development of an enlightened electorate.

Samuel Adams, of Chicago, widely known as an editor of farm publications and as president of the American Agricultural Editors' association, has accepted the post of director general of Uncle Sam's Voters. With him will be associated many other prominent Americans, including Ira Nelson Morris, who has resigned as United States minister to Sweden to become president of Uncle Sam's Voters. James W. Good, formerly congressman from Iowa, and now a leading lawyer of Chicago, is vice-president; G. B. Wayland of Virginia, is secretary. The women are represented by Mary Lee Adams as vice-president, and many other women of note will be on the advisory board.

"The world war has not only left tremendous problems," said Mr. Adams, "but it has also, unfortunately, left a general apathy toward governmental affairs—a natural reaction, perhaps, from the zeal with which the government was supported during the war."

"But these very problems require constructive thought and effort more than any that have hitherto beset the country. Every citizen's effort is needed, and to stimulate popular participation in national affairs, Uncle Sam's Voters will revive the old-time town meeting as an effective force in modern life."

"Our nation came into being largely through the work of the New England town meeting, and Uncle Sam's Voters will revive these town meetings, where citizens came together to discuss and settle their political, social and economic problems. The need has never been greater than today for clear thinking, and I believe firmly that nothing can do so much to promote it as local assemblies based on the principles of the town meeting."

"The words of Samuel Adams of Revolutionary days, spoken in 1772, are as applicable now as then: 'Let us converse together and open our minds freely to each other. Let every town assemble. Let associations and combinations everywhere be set up to consult and recover our just rights.'"

"Uncle Sam's Voters will also organize among the boys and girls of high school age, as well as those who are already voters. While the organization is political it is in no sense partisan, its aim being to promote the common welfare by bringing every mind to the service."

Organization work is already under way and will be undertaken on a plan of national scope. Unqualified endorsement of the project has been received from public spirited citizens of all political faiths.

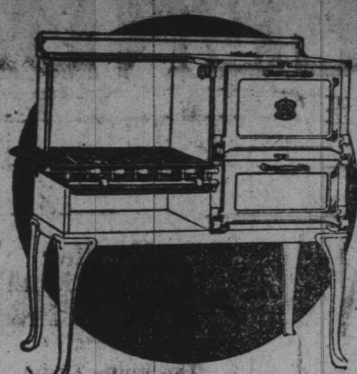

Full particulars regarding this new citizenship movement can be secured by addressing Samuel Adams, Citizens Saving Bank Bldg., Washington, D. C.

TOKIO, April 19.—Several members of the House of Peers have presented a bill providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate conditions in various shrines of the Empire. Present shrine regulations are thought to be antiquated and to need readjusting to meet the modern tendencies of the nation, and maintain traditions of reverence for the gods and ancestor worship.

Blossoming forth from poverty to riches, Mr. Smith bought a motor car. It wasn't much of a car, but he talked about it a lot. He always called it "my automobile." He tried many experiments with it, and was often seen reclining underneath it. This happened so frequently that Smith and his automobile became the joke of the neighborhood. One day Smith was mowing his lawn when something went wrong with the mower. He sat down beside it to have a look at the machinery.

A wag, chancing to pass that way, paused.

"Good morning, Smith," he said; "is that your automobile again?" "No," growled Smith. "It's my oughternighgrass—but it won't!"

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR BIG C. E. CONVENTION

Thirty-first Meeting Will Open at Pomona on April 20

Arrangements have been completed for the thirty-first annual Christian Endeavor convention of Los Angeles county, which will be held at Pomona, April 20-22, and all indications point to a record breaking attendance. It is estimated that the attendance will number 4000, the delegates coming from all parts of the county and representing all denominations.

The Christian Endeavor movement was started by Dr. Francis E. Clark, pastor of the Congregational church at Williston, Maine, in 1882. There are over 4,000,000 members throughout the world, there being 400 societies in Los Angeles county with an enrollment of over 10,000 active members. Every church has one society, some more, that of the Temple Baptist, Los Angeles, having seven.

Every year a three-day convention is held in some city in the county, this year in Pomona. The best musical talent and the ablest speakers are always secured, and the programs are noted for their balance and scope of subjects discussed. This will be the thirty-first annual convention and is said to be the best in the unique features offered and the quality of the program presented.

One of the musical treats will be the singing of old plantation melodies by the Golden West Choral club of Los Angeles, one of the best colored choruses in the country. On Saturday, the Pomona college glee club will sing and the famous Hawaiian trio will play. The Harmony quartette, considered one of the finest in the United States, will sing at all sessions. The convention will also be favored with many solo, duet, and other numbers of great excellence.

On Saturday evening three banquets will be held, called black, brown and white banquets, so named because the speakers will be of those colors. Paul Brown and Dr. W. P. White.

An interesting feature of the convention will be the great Sunrise service in the Greek theatre in Ga-ne-sha park Sunday morning. Among those who will address the convention will be Dr. Geo. M. Rourke, Rev. L. S. Bauman, Dr. W. S. Buchanan, Rev. John Mar-via Dean, Rev. R. A. Hadden, Rev. O. P. Gifford, Rev. W. P. White, Rev. Bob Shuler, Rev. Bruce V. Black and Paul C. Brown.

Inasmuch as the convention will be largely attended it will be necessary to use five churches in Pomona, the Christian, Baptist, Brethren, Presbyterian, Hole avenue Methodist, together with the Y. M. C. A.

OKLAHOMANS WILL CELEBRATE THEIR "DAY"

Former residents of the state of Oklahoma are looking forward to the enthusiastic celebration of Oklahoma Day Saturday, April 21, when all Southern California will unite in the big reunion in Bixby Park, Long Beach.

Hon. Milton Bryan will preside, and will offer a fine program. County registers, badges, hot coffee will be supplied. Picnickers will bring basket dinners.

This will commemorate the day known in the home state as Oklahoma Day and all are urged to join in making it a great popular occasion.

Eagle Rock

A very quiet wedding was celebrated Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the "wedding room" of the Central Christian church, when the pastor, Rev. Clifford Cole, united Margaret Gibson, better known to her friends as "Peggy" Gibson, of 805 East Chestnut, to Alvin Eugene Anderson of 1145 N. Columbus. They were attended by Mrs. Grace Verdugo and Jack Washabaugh, as witnesses, the party leaving immediately following the marriage in which the ring ceremony was used. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home in Glendale.

At the regular meeting of the Cerritos avenue Parent-Teachers' association, held at the school Tuesday afternoon, the resignation of Mrs. O. W. Esselman was presented and accepted with regrets. Mrs. Esselman is moving to Eagle Rock next week. She was presented with a large bouquet of roses and a pot of fern in appreciation of her work in the association. Announcement was made of the district conference in Los Angeles next week and also of the state conference at Stockton on May 8 to 11.

A nominating committee was appointed, including Mrs. Hurlburt, Mrs. H. S. Goldsborough, Mrs. Stratford, Mrs. Irene McReynolds and Miss Kinkaid. Mrs. Esselman conducted a parliamentary law drill. Announcement was made of a meeting of the Glendale auxiliary for the Children's hospital to be held Thursday night in room 20 of the high school at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. S. Goldsborough, vice-president, will act as president for the remainder of the term.

OCCIDENTAL GLEE CLUB IN EVENING OF SONG

The Occidental Glee Club, represented by twelve fine young men singers and a pianist of exceptional brilliancy, gave an entertainment last evening in Central Christian Church that was worth a goodly admission price, though none was charged. The particular stars were Edison Rice and Donald Walker, soloists; Verner and Jacobson, in funny instrumental and vocal duets; Paul Hadden in comical monologues; Rex Davis, Gregory Lawrence and John Wallis in laughter-provoking vocal trios; and Raymond McFeeters, the young pianist, whose accompaniments were of a high order and whose solo numbers showed remarkable technique as well as memory. He played Liszt's Rhapsodie, No. 12, without notes, with a verve and finish rarely attained by so young a performer. The ensemble songs by the club were all of a high order and the closing medley, ending with college yells, was a fitting finale to a wonderful two hours of solid enjoyment.

The club but recently returned from a tour in the north, where it met with enthusiastic receptions in all cities visited.

K. C. HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING

A large and enthusiastic group of members attended the regular meeting of Glendale council of Knights of Columbus, held last night, with Grand Knight Harry Girard in charge. A representative from Alhambra council was present in regard to the local council attending the Mission Play on Knights of Columbus night, May 19. It is the intention to fill the playhouse with Knights of Southern California in honor of John McGroarty.

Members of the Glendale council decided to go en masse to the Harry Girard night to be put on tonight by council No. 621 of Los Angeles. Mr. Girard is to have charge of the entertainment features.

Several transfer applications were received and acted upon. On Sunday the San Fernando council puts on the second and third degrees and a number of the Glendale candidates will take the degrees there. The Glendale council will attend in force. Grand Knight and Mrs. Harry Girard and Ed. Albright will put on the musical program which is to follow the banquet at San Fernando.

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE MEETING HELD

The regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was held yesterday at the public library on Harvard street. A review of "The Seven Ages of Childhood" (Ellen Lyman Cabot) was given by Mrs. W. W. Stofft. The opening chapters of the new book, "Play and Education," were read by Mrs. Barton. Circle "Baby Day," which is an annual celebration, will be observed at the meeting next Wednesday. A letter was read from Mrs. H. Layer of Berkeley, telling of the organization of a reading circle there following the plans of the Glendale Circle. Mrs. Moore announced a meeting of the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's Hospital Society to be held at the high school tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Room 20.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY AT BANCROFT HOME

The benefit card party and musical given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Roy Bancroft, 121 West Eulalia street, for the benefit of the building fund of the Thursday Afternoon Club, was a very delightful affair attended by about 45 members and friends of the organization. Mrs. Bancroft was assisted as hostess by Mrs. McNaughton Barnes, Mrs. James Cunningham and Mrs. F. A. Archer. The program for the afternoon included readings by Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, vocal numbers by Miss Frances Cline and Mrs. Flora Weston. Each of these was presented with a French passagay. The house was beautifully decorated with May baskets. Mrs. Bancroft had received a large box of guyetes. A large basket of exia blossoms was provided by Mrs. Reeves Darling and a basket of daisies by Mrs. G. W. McDougall.

PICKING WINNER IN N. L. LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, April 19.—They may not finish this way in the National League next October. The odds are heavily against an accurate assignment of more than two or three clubs to places, but this is the guessing season. It's fun to guess and then forget all about it in the fall, if it makes one feel better to forget it then. So here's the way the National League pennant race is going to finish:

New York Giants
Cincinnati Reds
Pittsburgh Pirates
St. Louis Cardinals
Chicago Cubs
Brooklyn Robins
Boston Braves
Philadelphia Phils.

With such an array of talent as is represented in the first three clubs it is difficult to resist the temptation to hedge around with a few "ifs" that might cover up, if the Reds or the Pirates should come through. That's against the rules, however.

First place and the pennant are given to the Giants because John McGraw has a better team than the one with which he won the 1921 and 1922 pennants. Centerfield is a doubtful quantity, but otherwise the Giants have an all-star team. They have great offensive and defensive strength, a promising pitching staff and above all things, they have McGraw on the bench.

With an alert young team, a fancy looking pitching staff and a great manager, the Cincinnati Reds certainly should finish no lower than second place. Perhaps they will do better. With Pat Moran's club holding up in the race, as it should, the Giants look a little better on the field and in the box. If it is in the cards that the Giants should fail to come through, the Pirates have almost as good a chance to slip into the world's series as the Reds have. McKechnie may have more of an executive task with the Pirates than Moran has with the Reds and therein lies much of the difference.

St. Louis is put in the first division merely because the Cards finished there last year and because Branch Rickey's club is less of an experiment than the Chicago Cubs. The Cards look doubtful and the Cubs dangerous, and it would be no great surprise if Bill Killefer should get his Chicago club into fourth place.

Considering that Brooklyn has anything but a striking ball club, it may be considered peculiar judgment to assign Uncle Robby's men to sixth position. But it must be remembered that Robby had no impressive club in 1920, when he won a pennant and he still has what was the biggest factor in his last victory—a good pitching staff.

Boston is awarded seventh place because it seems impossible that any team should be able to beat out the Phils for last place. The Braves have some very fine young pitching material and, handled by the shrewd Fred Mitchell, they might upset calculations by doing better in the pennant race. They might beat out Brooklyn, but they don't appear as being capable of reaching a position any higher than sixth.

Art Fletcher hasn't anything but a job with the Phils and Bill Baker follows his precedent. Art may be minus that along about the first of August. Fletcher was always considered a game player when he was with the Giants and he proved that he has lost none of his courage when he agreed to accept the management of that outfit.

As said before, the Giants, Reds and Pirates are very closely grouped in strength. They are all potential pennant winners and weigh the same in physical and mechanical ability. But this must be considered: The Giants are a wonderful "money team." They are at their best when their best is most needed. Don't forget that the Giants will not lack confidence after winning two world's championships and don't let it slip out of reckoning that the promise of a purse of $10,000 each out of another world series will make those Giants play ball.

WINNER OF HOOVER CUP, AWARDED ANNUALLY TO OWNER OF BEST AMATEUR RADIO STATION

The Hoover cup is awarded by the department of commerce, through Secretary Hoover, for the best all-around amateur receiving and sending set, the major part of which is home made. The winning of this trophy is the highest honor an amateur can attain. This year it went to Frederick R. Ostman of Ridgewood, N. Y. The award was made by a committee of three judges selected by Hiram Percy Maxim, president of the American Radio Relay league. The photograph shows Ostman and his radio set.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF EAGLE ROCK CITY

EAGLE ROCK TO BE SCRUBBED BEHIND THE EARS ROY M'CCLAY IS NOW OFFICIAL BABY CATCHER MILLENNIUM IS BENEFIT PARTY CENTRAL FOR DISABLED VETERANS HAVE MADE $36 IN DRIVE

"Slick Up" of City is Planned Before the 15th of May

"Come in your hands and face are clean." It might seem that Eagle Rock, like the visiting playmates of the little girl in the story, is to get this greeting from Los Angeles. A strenuous campaign is being waged here to clean up Eagle Rock so that she can go down to the "city fathers" and present herself as one of the big Los Angeles family with her face scrubbed clean and shining, her pinafore spotless, her hair slicked back, and her ears in a braid.

At any rate, when thoughts of dutiful housewives turn to pruning shears and scrub bucket, it is another sure sign of spring. And the battle of tinned alloy is on. If plans of those promoting this drive result to their entire satisfaction, every back yard will be groomed to the nth degree, and every vacant lot will look as if it were freshly brushed up for a lawn party.

Although Eagle Rock is essentially a clean city, there are many unsightly places to be scoured up. So many persons have pitched their rose cuttings over the back yard fence into the neighbor's vacant lot, expecting them to die, that a tangle and thicket of shrubbery and weeds has resulted where the rains have caused the cuttings to take root and shoot green arms out in every direction. Cans and bottles (mostly cans) have been allowed to stray far too much toward the back yard, alley, and vacant lot.

If wagons for taking up this refuse can be secured, Eagle Rock will present herself spotless, in best bib and tucker, about May 15. And if municipal collection cannot be secured before that date, indicating that the city fathers are behind Eagle Rock of the "dirt behind her ears," as someone has aptly characterized this litter in back yard, alley, and vacant lot.

And along with spring beautifying plans comes another suggestion that this is the season to make the Dublin City, which title has been bestowed upon it through the fame of J. J. Broomall's dahlia farm. If every resident can give space on his property for a few dahlia bulbs, by the time the blooming season is here, Los Angeles will have good reason to take pride in the appearance of her latest protege.

"The Babes in the Woods" would never have been lost and hidden under the leaves by the robins if Roy McClay, dubbed "official baby catcher" at the city hall, had been near to answer the parents' plea for assistance. Fast upon the successful accomplishment of his search for the eighteen months old daughter of Mrs. Johnson in the east end, another frantic plea from Mrs. Bryan, 155 South Sierra Vista, came over the wire late in the afternoon, Tuesday. Mrs. Bryan explained that her daughter, Marian, seven years old, had not returned from the West End school, where she is a student. Marian having formed a habit of coming home promptly, Mrs. Bryan was worried, and her first thought was "kidnapers" when she could not find Marian at the school, or at any of her usual playmates' homes.

Mr. McClay working upon the description given him by the anxious mother—blue middy suit, rose color cap, black shoes and stockings—set out to round up the missing child. He scoured the neighborhood and found her so interested in play with a new acquaintance that she did not realize how late it had grown. Mr. McClay explained that her mother was worried and took her home.

But, instead of being rewarded with smiles and gratitude, Mr. McClay was met by an angry parent who mistook him for the "kidnapers." After the fire had subsided somewhat, Mr. McClay managed to get in enough explanation so that Mrs. Bryan discovered her mistake and was profuse in her appreciation.

EDISON PLANT IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

One of the main transmission lines of the Edison plant at Eagle Rock park was struck by the lightning yesterday about two o'clock, during the freak cloudburst. It took the Edison employees twelve minutes to test the switches and discover where the damage had been done, and start repairs.

That the millennium is near at hand, but that it will be something very different from what is taught in the popular theology of the day, was asserted by Rev. C. S. Prout at the Adventist tabernacle in Eagle Rock, Wednesday evening. During this period of time Satan is to be "bound" with "a great chain," we learn from Rev. 20:1-3. A literal chain of steel or other material could not bind an angel, hence this chain must be of a different sort. It is a chain of circumstances, the speaker said. One of these circumstances is the removal of all the righteous from the earth at the coming of Christ. They will be "caught up" to meet Him, says 1 Thess. 4:16-17, and thus will be beyond Satan's reach. The wicked who are alive when Christ comes will all be slain, as stated in Rev. 19:19-21, and other scriptures, hence Satan cannot work through them, and this will be another link in his chain. Another link will be in the fact that he will be confined to the earth by the power of God, and therefore cannot come in touch with the inhabitants of other worlds. He will have a thousand years of time on his hands, with nothing to do. Not an ideal sort of a vacation for him, considering the further fact that this earth will be an utterly desolate place during all this time, having been swept by the seven last plagues and reduced to a chaotic state by the convulsions of nature attending the return of Christ in glory.

The millennium, the speaker said, will be bounded by two resurrections, the first of which will bring the righteous dead from their graves, who will sit with Christ in judgment during the thousand years to follow. Rev. 20:4. "The rest of the dead," says the following verse, "live not again until the thousand years were finished." They come up in the second resurrection at the end of the thousand years, and this affords Satan an opportunity to work again, hence he is said to be "loosed out of his prison." V. 7. He immediately goes out to deceive the inhabitants of the earth and gather them together to battle. V. 8. Meanwhile the holy city, the New Jerusalem, has descended from God out of heaven, and Satan gathers his hosts around it to make an assault upon it; but, says verse 9, "fire came down from God out of heaven and devoured them." This fire overwhelms the earth, as described in 2 Pet. 3, and from its ashes a "new heaven and a new earth" are brought forth by the creative power of God.

GATES' EXPENSES TAKEN OVER BY THE CITY

The expense of the injuries sustained by Fred Gates, former motor officer for Eagle Rock, while endeavoring to fix one of the street lights at Colorado and Central some months ago, will be taken over by the city. Mr. Gates was called to fix the light, and in climbing a high ladder held by three other men, fell, injuring both ankles so that he has been partially disabled ever since.

'SWEET SHOP' ON COLORADO WILL CHANGE HANDS

Mrs. White, proprietor of the "Sweet shop" on Colorado is closing her establishment. A deal is now pending with a Los Angeles firm to take over the shop for cafe purposes. Mrs. White has found her work too heavy and desires a rest. She also has property holdings in the east which it is imperative that she take care of at once. She will probably leave Eagle Rock sometime in the near future to care for this eastern business.

Twentieth Century Club to Have Afternoon at Cards on April 30

A card party, the annual benefit affair given by the Women's Twentieth Century club for the disabled veterans, will take place in the Women's clubhouse on April 30, at 2 o'clock. The entire proceeds of the afternoon will go to help the injured soldiers.

Bridge, five hundred, and mah jongg will be the games, and score cards will sell at 25 cents each. Those who make up each table will play together all afternoon. There will be no changes, and each table will have a separate hostess. Two prizes will be given for each game. Refreshments will be served. This is one of the biggest afternoon card parties of the year, and all the ladies of the valley are invited and urged to attend. Mrs. C. W. Hunt is in charge of all preparations.

Mark Ryan, proprietor of the Sunnyland cafe, has temporarily closed his business because of his illness. He has been confined to his bed for several weeks, but will reopen as soon as he has recovered sufficiently.

F. M. Skelton, 218 Valley drive, is recovering satisfactorily from a successful operation performed by Dr. A. G. Westphal of the Glendale sanitarium the first of the week.

"When I marry," said the dear young lady, "I want a man who is always cool and who can be relied upon to be steady. He must not lie nor smoke, and he must be a man who can listen. But above all he must be cool."

"Oh, I see," said the nice young man, "you want a snow man."

Over Three Tons of Old Newspapers Have Been Collected

The old paper drive of the Central school students, from the proceeds of which they will pay for the publication of a school year book, will net a satisfactory sum, judging by the pile of newspapers which the students in charge have already stacked up in the main hallway, and the library of the Central school.

The total weight of the papers, which are tied in bundles of thirty-five pounds each, is now over three tons. Twelve dollars a ton will be paid the students. So there is a fund of $36 already assured towards the annual. Much more than this will be needed to put out the kind of a book that the pupils have planned, as the chief expense will come in the cuts of school activities and persons which they are desirous of putting into the book so that it will resemble on a small scale a real high school annual.

"When I marry," said the dear young lady, "I want a man who is always cool and who can be relied upon to be steady. He must not lie nor smoke, and he must be a man who can listen. But above all he must be cool."

"The Committee of Three" Announces the Season's Most Important Theatrical Event! Mr. Leo Dittrichstein, "America's Master-Player," In His Miracle Mystery Play, "The Purple Mask" Staged by Winthrop Ames, MASON OPERA HOUSE LOS ANGELES Week Starting Monday Night, April 30th

"The Committee of Three" are representatives of "America's Theater Managers' Association," selected by them to secure, at least once each season, a representative star, to be surrounded by a company of players of positive worth and appear in a play of wide popular appeal—this company to make a transcontinental tour under the insurance and assurance of the "Committee."

In the selection of Mr. Dittrichstein, and having him appear in his most universal success—"The Purple Mask"—the choice carefully and decided by the number of theater managers' votes that "The Purple Mask" was the most popular play wherever it had been presented.

This move on the part of the theater managers assures the amusement lovers in all cities the same carefully cast and completely produced productions that have heretofore been seen only in the favored cities of America.

Only the standard prices of fifty cents to two dollars for matinees and fifty cents to two dollars and fifty cents for nights will be charged. Another innovation is that only the comfortable capacity of the gallery will be sold and gallery seats can be had by mail or on personal application at the box office—in advance—the same as seats in any other part of the theater. There will be no laying aside of seats or reservations made by phone. The first applicants will have first choice. The sale of boxes and seats will begin Thursday, April 26th, at 9 o'clock a. m.

There will be a matinee on Wednesday and Saturday. NOTE—For the convenience of out of town patrons. Mail orders will be filled immediately when accompanied by purchase price plus tax and self-addressed envelope, assuring prompt return.

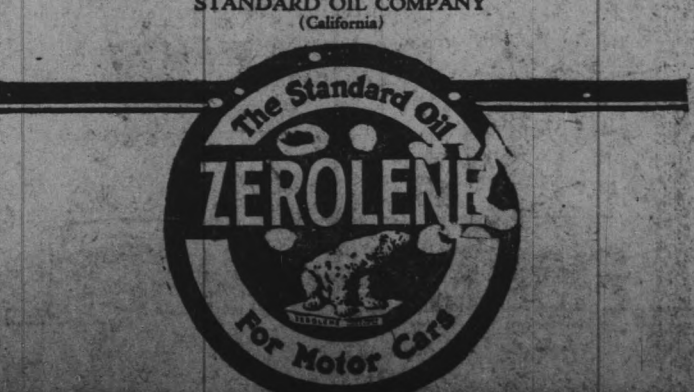

more gasoline mileage with Zerolene

Few motorists would willingly pay fancy prices for oil if they knew what we know about Zerolene, which sells for about half the price of many other oils.

Zerolene, made from selected Naphthenic-Base Crude and vacuum-distilled by our exclusive process, stands up better and gives better, continuous lubrication than any oil we have seen and tested or been able to produce.

One of the best proofs of this is, that a car lubricated with Zerolene averages 5% better in gasoline mileage than a car lubricated with other oils, as shown by repeated laboratory tests. Even more important, Zerolene will run a car from 25% to 50% farther before carbon-removing operations are required.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less. Consult our Correct Lubrication Chart to determine the correct oil for your car.

SAN DIMAS DAM CELEBRATION PROGRAM

Everyone Invited to Attend Big County Festivities Over Completion

There is promise of a very important event for all irrigated Southern California in the meeting that is to be held Saturday, April 21, at the foot of the big new flood control dam in San Dimas canyon. Our underground waters are receding to lower levels so rapidly that the situation is alarming. We are face to face with the need of reinforcing them with conserved surface waters.

And the need of restraining the disastrous floods that have raged down our mountain canyons, and overspread the lowlands, needs no argument.

Men have stored irrigation water for ages, and Los Angeles county has led the world in building permanent works for the control floods. The Devil's Gate dam at Pasadena, and the dams in San Dimas and Live Oak canyons, are monuments to this new activity.

But there is not known to be a work anywhere in the world that combines the two distinct elements of flood control and water conservation—except in the new-built dam in San Dimas canyon, and the water storage that is now projected in connection with it by the County Flood Control. It is this unique quality that is to make this so-called celebration historic. It is rather a big water development study class.

The day's doings will open with a basket picnic, to which the participants are asked to bring their own provisions, at the foot of the San Dimas dam at 1 p. m. This is to be followed by a program in which several distinguished speakers will take brief part. After this the San Dimas and Live Oak dams will be inspected, and officially described, and then the party will drive to the location of the big Puddingstone canyon storage reservoir, where Chief Engineer Reagan of the County Flood Control will expound that entire proposition, with all its physical features in plain view. A social touch will be given in the evening, when the local lodge of the Moose will hold a dance on the broad top of the San Dimas dam.

So many warm responses have come from engineers, state officials and other men of prominence, from chambers of commerce, and city councils, and fruit associations, and well water companies, and plain untitled citizens, that a large and very important meeting is expected. The bearing that this occasion will have on like development in other places is unmistakable.

The invitation is open to all who are interested, and the Press speaks a full attendance from Glendale. It is asked that each car that carries a delegation from any business or other organization have name and town placarded on its sides. Inasmuch as the news film people are to be there, and the city papers are making arrangements for large display, it is evident that the gathering is one of importance. The San Dimas people meet us half way. On condition that we furnish the crowd they will supply the tables, seats, and coffee.

Consumers' Contest Reaches Fever Heat

Interest in the Consumers' Contest is now at fever heat, and as there are only seven more weeks of the contest the finish will be an exciting one. During the last few days the Contest Editor has been flooded with labels from the contestants, and the score published elsewhere does not show the true standing of the contestants. However the correct vote will appear Saturday in a news article in the Glendale Daily Press.

Dana Van Loan, Mary Kirby, Robert Trowbridge, Mrs. Harpster and other live wires are crowding each other on the score, and there are some surprises in store. Watch Saturday's paper.

Southwest Museum Has Interesting Saturday Program

Jeannette Braddock, soprano, and Margarette Hayes, soprano, will open the program for the Children's Hour at the Southwest Museum, next Saturday morning, April 21, at 10:30 o'clock. These little ladies will sing a group of delightful children songs and will be assisted by Mrs. Rose A. Borch. Immediately following the musical program, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Trengrove and Mrs. Frankel of the University of California, Southern Branch, will tell a group of stories for children from 5 to 8, and from 8 to 13 years of age, including "Why the Bear Sleeps All Winter," "Little Black Sambo" and "Gunnivolt."

An educational film on "Old Spain" will complete the program, a trip to the Tower will follow and all children attending the Children's Hour program are cordially invited to take part in the flag ceremony.

All children are cordially invited to attend and to bring their parents. The program for next Sunday afternoon at the Southwest Museum consists of a musical given by the orchestra of the First Methodist Episcopal church, under the direction of Mr. Irving G. Ulmer.

Some of the numbers to be given are "Overture to Spring" (Arnold), violin duet, "Angels' Voices" (Zamecnik), Miss Reba Evans and Mr. James Ulmer; Desert Suite consisting of "At Sunrise," "On the Mesa" and "Mirage" (Homer Grunn); "La Paloma" (Yardier) and an overture entitled "Queen's Secret" (Thomas).

The public is cordially invited to visit the Museum and enjoy a beautiful musical program and the Spanish Colonial exhibit now being held.

TEXAS AND WASHINGTON
FINAL PICNIC CALLS
The Texas and state of Washington folks will rally in Sycamore Grove park, Saturday, April 21 for the big annual picnic reunion. Texans will celebrate their famous San Jacinto day and Washington people will have the social reunion. Programs will be given after the dinner hour.

NEW OFFERING OF SUBURBAN LOTS IS PLANNED

Closing Out of First Unit Rushes No. 2 to the Market

Another big offering of large, scenic homesites in Suburban Heights will be shortly announced to the public, according to Alfred R. Johnson of the Suburban Heights Realty company of 508 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Johnson states: "Since the phenomenal success of our first unit, which was completely sold out in 24 hours, last week, we have been working overtime with the surveying, engineering and grading crews, getting things into shape in order to be able to place Suburban Heights unit No. 2 on the market within the next few days. This will enable purchasers, either homebuilders or investors, to hold the property a few months and take what should be an exceptionally fine profit from the newcomers among us, next fall."

"Suburban Heights is located in the world-famous Brand's Castle, 'Miradero.' It is a small, exclusive subdivision of super-homesites unparalleled in Southern California for scenic beauty, tropical verdure and impressive mountain surroundings. Homesites in this much sought for locality have been the first choice of every newcomer and long-time resident and are today looked upon by the leading business men, bankers and real estate men, as being the most profitable purchase in homesites today."

"There is nothing of the ordinary subdivision in Suburban Heights. Heavily wooded and covered with valuable vines, with cement sidewalks completed, and gas, water and lights already of the estate, there is little to denote that this wonderful little 'community in the making' is not already a year or so old. Thousands of dollars have been spent upon improvements that are here, visible to the eye, and not promises that may never be fulfilled. With all these modern improvements that are completed before the prospective purchaser is invited to buy, Suburban Heights homesites will be offered soon at less than surrounding lot prices in unimproved acreage."

"Suburban Heights unit No. 2 will be a larger offering than unit No. 1, both in the number of homesites and still more particularly in the extraordinary terms upon which buyers will be able to easily acquire these profit-making suburban estates."

OCCIDENTAL HOLDS DEBATE ON ALIEN LAND LAW

A highly interesting debate was held at Occidental college last evening on the question, "Resolved, that the California Anti-Alien land law of 1920 be repealed." Miss Fannie Alice Hagin, a well-known Glendale young lady, was one of the three affirmative speakers and a daughter of Dr. Willis Martin of Hollywood, known to many Glendale residents, was one of the upholding the negative. She is a student of Pomona college. The negative side won by a very narrow margin. Prof. W. D. Root of Glendale was one of the judges.

SAWDUST TRAIL HIKE BEGINS AT JETER TABERNACLE

JERRY JETER JOLTS
"Some of the best things a man has said about him fall from the lips of his enemies. They said of Jesus, 'This man receiveth sinners.'"

"When Christ started his work he did not get kings to be his first followers; He called some fishermen to Him and made them 'kings.'"

"You don't have to graft goat glands into some people to make goats out of them and monkey glands would improve some folks."

"If a dog wags his tail around you you may know that he deems you worthy of his honor. If I were a dog I would not wag my tail around some people I know."

"That poor fellow over in the 5th of Mark had enough devils in him to cause 2000 hogs to commit suicide."

"I have seen the devil get into a horse and I have seen him dash things to pieces; I have seen the devil get into a man and I have seen him fight and foam at the mouth; I have seen the devil get into a woman and I did not stay to see what happened!"

Many "hit the sawdust trail" at the Jerry Jeter tabernacle last night, several young men among them. The evangelist preached a real hot sermon on "This Man Receiveth sinners."

The crowds are getting larger at all of the services. Mrs. Jeter spoke today at the 2:30 hour on "The Resurrection."

Tonight a large delegation is expected from the Bob Shuler church in Los Angeles. They will no doubt sing some spirited gospel songs. Friday night is to be, according to Mr. Jeter's announcement, the biggest night yet when he cartoons the life story "Of Jim and Jerry. Two Old Schoolmates." The evangelist wishes that all of the boys and young men hear and see the story. He said the other night: "Young ladies, do not stay home next Friday night and talk to that fellow; do not go walking and talk to him; do not go to the movies and talk to him but bring him to the tabernacle and let somebody talk to him that has some sense."

GIRLS' PROBLEM PLAY AT T. D. L. ON FRIDAY

Is the modern, up-to-the-minute, emancipated, unfettered and untrammelled girl overdoing it? Can she carry her own latchkey, smoke cigarettes, keep late hours, ignore the conventions, smash the old ideals without at the same time smashing herself?

Or, in another way of putting it: Is the so-called "bold girl" necessarily a "bad girl?"

A great many women leaders are beginning to suffer uneasy qualms and ask themselves this question. What is the answer?

In "Prodigal Daughters," a Sam Wood Paramount production, with Gloria Swanson as the star, which comes to the T. D. & L. Theatre next Friday, the answer is a smashing surprise that will make the audience gasp.

A frenzy of extravagance in which the thoroughly liberated woman of today is shown plunging full tilt into the maelstrom of reckless behavior, is followed by a climax that is unique in motion picture production.

Gloria Swanson as "Swiftie" Forbes, the young woman who seeks a new way to "break the Ten Commandments," is shown in a role strikingly different from anything she has attempted heretofore. Ralph Graves, regarded by many as one of the handsomest actors on the screen, and playing opposite Miss Swanson, gives an effective presentation of the young man who clings to clean ideals and fights to preserve them. Finally, there is Theodore Roberts, veteran character actor, who is excellent as the successful and dismayed head of a family that has, somehow, grown too modern for his old-fashioned understanding.

Priscilla Dean scores again. This time it is the Hobart Henley Universal-Jewel production, "The Flame of Life," an adaptation of the famous novels, which closes an engagement of three days at the T. D. & L. Theatre tonight.

Recreation Leaders of Community Service Organize Neighbors

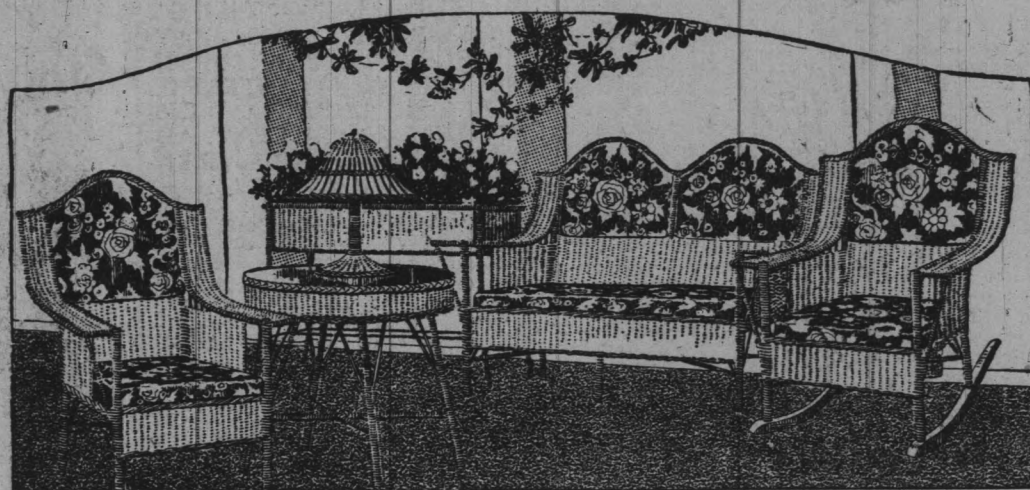

A meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Community Service Recreation Leaders' club was held last night at the home of the president, Mrs. O. E. McDowell, to complete arrangements for the neighborhood parties to be staged in Glendale next week as a part of the program in observance of National Play Week. Mrs. St. Clair Whytock and Mrs. Langdon will have charge of the team to put on the games in the Grand View district; Mrs. McDowell will head the team on East Broadway and Mrs. Mae Rosenberg and L. T. Rowley will take charge at the Pacific avenue school.

It was also decided that after "play week" the club will visit various sections of the city and put on neighborhood parties, visiting one section each month. This will be in addition to the regular Community Service party staged the second Monday in each month at the high school gymnasium. After the business session a social evening was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Mrs. J. C. Person of 2150 Kenneth road, who had been seriously ill for the past three weeks, has recovered.

BELLEHURST
IN THE HEART OF GLENDALENOW SELLING
LIKE WILD-FIRE!

This magnificent old estate—an enchanted garden in the midst of the fastest forward marching city in America.

Come today—at once—and see with your own eyes these wonderful homesites covered with fine old palms, magnolias, oaks, and hundreds of bearing orange, lemon and olive trees.

We are creating here in Glendale a unique residence park for Southern California—one that will rival and excel in beauty the thousand acres of distinctive home communities we have developed in Piedmont and Oakland in the San Francisco Bay region.

Bellehurst Park is dedicated to fine homes. Restrictions are carefully worked out to insure steadily increasing values. All city improvements of the highest type are now being installed at our expense. Pacific Electric trains only 2 blocks away. Four schools within 5 blocks. Very easy terms to first buyers.

Build AND Furnish A HOME

IT IS UP TO YOU!

Only a very few families start out in life owning their own homes. All, undoubtedly, entertain the hope, that within a short time, a few years at the most, they will occupy homes of their own. But in many cases, the dream-home fades away, and the dreamers settle down to a routine existence in a rented home. To all such, this question is opportune—WHICH WOULD YOU RATHER HAVE AFTER A FEW YEARS, A DEED TO YOUR HOME OR A BUNCH OF RENT RECEIPTS?

The great majority of city dwellers are employees in some capacity or other. Experience has shown that an employer has more respect for an employee who is a home owner than he has for a renter. Then, why not make the most of the confidence of your employer for your own benefit and advancement, and for the benefit of your family?

Remember, that your child is brought into this world without its solicitation. It is up to you to provide it with a home and to give it an education.

In your family your friends see a true reflection of yourself. Give your family the pleasure, comfort and security of a home. Give them the joy of having that respect from the community which home ownership confers.

IT IS UP TO YOU!

WILL YOU LEAVE A HOME FOR YOUR FAMILY?

Do You Know, That Out of an Average Number of 100 Men, When They Die:

- 1 Leaves Wealth
- 2 Leave Comfort

- 15 Leave from $2,000 to $10,000
- 82 Leave NOTHING!

How many of these 100 owned their homes? In which class will YOU be placed?

THIS MEANS YOU! SAVE for a HOME while you can.

THE CITY OF BURBANK AND ITS ENVIRONS

WHY NOT MAKE FOURTH STREET INTO A BOULEVARD AS GLLENDALE'S THOROUGHFARE?

Burbank City Trustees Consider the Advisability of Widening Street Similar to Width of Brand Before Town Grows Larger

The method of purchasing a city park, the establishing of a laboratory for making milk tests, the appointment of a milk inspector, and discussion of street improvements formed the topics for consideration by the city trustees at their meeting at the city hall Tuesday evening.

The subject of improving Grismer avenue was one which drew forth much conversation. The improvement procedures were protested by some, by the city council overruled the protests and instructed the city attorney to draw up a resolution that the steps for improving the avenue proceed and City Clerk F. S. Webster was instructed to call for bids.

The subdivision map submitted to the city council by Mr. Bates for approval was ordered returned to him by the city clerk, Mr. Webster, he saying that the board declined to approve it.

Requests came to the council asking for a milk inspector and the establishment of a laboratory for testing milk in Burbank. Hannevelt and Sherer to construct the sidewalks on Tenth and Providencia avenue.

Mr. Marks was present to adjust the deed of the civic center in the Benmar tract, which has been given to Burbank. The resolution establishing the grade of Providencia and Varney street passed to the second reading. The second step was taken toward the improvement of Sixth, Eighth and Magnolia avenue and bids were ordered to be called for by the city clerk.

The city park board and the really board delegates were present asking the city trustees' methods for purchasing a city park. The park can be purchased with a bond issue or through a trustee, just as the people of the city wish.

The matter of widening Fourth street so that it would have a boulevard similar to the one in Glendale held the attention for some time and it is hoped that this will eventually be accomplished.

City Engineer Curt Miller reported that contracts for purchasing electrical equipment from the Western house company was completed and the check covering the bid was ordered to be returned.

The city engineer was instructed to put in a light at Main and Clark streets.

A petition was filed asking that the name of Grismer avenue be changed to Mountain View.

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST
SCRAPBOOK CLIPPINGS

Hark! Hark! the Lark (Schubert)

Franz Schubert was born in Vienna January 31, 1797, and he died November 19, 1828. From the two minute story furnished by Miss Maria Salisbury, 1104 North Central avenue, instructor in piano in the Sherwood School of Music, from the University Course of Music, a description of him says: "Schubert was of insignificant appearance, his stature barely reaching to five feet, one inch. Stout of figure, with rounded shoulders, fleshy arms and thick fingers, much redeemed, however, by a picturesque head, showing a profusion of black vigorous hair, remarkably expressive eyes, always spectacled, an insignificant nose and fine teeth. Schubert had but small physical aids to the battle of life."

An incident in connection with the composition of "Hark! Hark! the Lark" is told.

"If we could have been with Schubert on a Sunday in July, 1826, we would have found ourselves one of a group approaching a tavern after a walk along the countryside near Vienna. A halt was called and the men sat down at the tables to quench their thirst. Schubert chanced to open a book lying on the table. Suddenly he pointed to some verses and said: 'Such a lovely melody has come into my head; if I only had a sheet of music paper with me.'"

"One of the company more successful than the others took the bill of fare and on the back of it ruled some music staves and passed it to him. There amid the noise of fiddlers and skittle players, of waiters running here and there in different directions with orders in the full hubbub of a Sunday holiday crowd, Schubert wrote that lovely song to Shakespeare's beautiful verse."

The hobo rides around the country in a box car while waiting for his ship to come in.

FISHERS GIVE CANYON DINNER

Attorney and Mrs. Walter Fisher entertained at a canyon dinner party old army friends, Captain and Mrs. Fred J. White of South Pasadena and Captain and Mrs. Ralf, Washington, D. C. The outdoor dinner was arranged in a unique manner in the Fisher canyon, and it was a very happy occasion.

GIRL SCOUTS ELECT STAFF

Troop One Chooses Officers and Win Badges

Girl Scouts, troop 1, met at the Edison building Tuesday evening and elected officers. The girls chosen were: Louise Wellington, chairman; Jacqueline McDonald, secretary; Dorothy Salisbury, treasurer; Katherine Hough, librarian. The patrol selected the names of Mt. Laurel, Pine Cone and Morning Glory for patrol names. Mt. Laurel patrol named Victoria Ackerly as patrol leader and Virginia Vance as corporal. Pine Cone patrol leader is Jeanette Gage and Corporal Young is corporal. The leader of the Morning Glory patrol is Cecilia Mae Fischer and Leona Sprinkel is corporal.

White badges awarded Tuesday night to the girls scoring 25 points to their credit were won by Margaret Woods, Pauline Bossett, Lillian Lewis and Louise Wellington.

RADIO CLUB NOTES

A meeting of the Radio club was held at the Palms Majestic hall Tuesday night.

A new De Forest reflex receiver, a type of set with no aerial or ground, and Western electric loud speaker were presented by the Burbank Music company.

About 40 people in all enjoyed a program given by Chinese students of the University of Southern California, which was broadcasted from the Times.

Members of the Radio club are much encouraged by the interest shown by the people of Burbank in these weekly concerts. Meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

METHODISTS WILL SELECT CITY FOR 1924 CONFERENCE

[By Associated Press]

CHICAGO, April 19.—Within the next four days the place of meeting of the Quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will have been decided. The book committee of the church began its annual five-day sessions here today, and before it finishes its work on April 22, it will have picked the place for Methodism's great gathering next year. It will have determined the salary to be paid bishops of the church for the ensuing year, and it will also determine what dividend shall be paid retired ministers of the church out of the produce of the Book Concern for last year.

The book committee, considered one of the most important in all Methodism, is composed of twenty-five members, fifteen of whom represent the fifteen general conference districts into which the world territory is divided. The other ten are from the territories immediately in the vicinity of New York and Cincinnati, where the two main houses of the Book Concern are located.

The total assets of the Book Concern, which started in 1789 on $600 of borrowed capital, are now $2,282,470.

K. K. K. ATTRACTS TOWN'S ATTENTION

According to the report of the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday noon at the Good Fellows' Club the White team is ahead of the Blues in the Kiwanis Kalling Contest. The White teams have made more than 1500 calls while the Blues have made more than 1400.

The first day of the contest the majority of the members had signed cards showing that they had made more than 100 calls. Most of the sixty members, it was no unusual sight to see one Kiwanian carry another one off in an automobile to his shop in order to get the signature.

Nowadays when Dr. Yale is seen running down the street it is no longer thought someone is hurt in an accident but observation has shown that he is chasing up a Kiwanian to take him to his place of business.

The report of the Kalling Contest was only one of the interesting features of the luncheon. A letter was read concerning Courtesy Week which Kiwanians all over the country are observing from April 15 to 20.

R. O. Church presented the membership with key rings and wallets. The speaker of the day, Mr. Sovey, spoke of shipping affairs.

BURBANK PEOPLE HEAR ORCHESTRA

Mrs. Grace Lovejoy, of the Progressive School of Music, one of the players in the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Los Angeles, participated in presenting the second concert of the season, Wednesday evening at the Philharmonic auditorium.

Many Burbank people enjoyed the excellent program. Olga Steeb, who has recently returned from an eastern concert trip, was the soloist. She played with the orchestra, Beethoven's Concerto in G Major (No. 4). The musicians were forced to respond to an encore. Immense bouquets of flowers were sent to Miss Steeb.

After playing of the first number, Schubert's Symphony in B Minor, the director, Henry Schoenfeld, conductor, was called back time and again, and he was presented with gorgeous floral tributes from the admiring music lovers.

The other numbers on the printed program were Greig's Spring; Wagner's Album Leaf, and Weber's Overture "Euryanthe," all of which were encored until the orchestra responded with another number.

"I attended a theatre in London," says an American player, "on the occasion of the production of a play wherein the chief figure, the king, aged and infirm, was blessed with two sons. He was passing up and down the stage with a worried look, exclaiming aloud: 'On which of these my sons shall I bestow my crown?' Came a voice from the gallery: 'Why not 'arf a crown apiece, guv'nor?'"

PUBLIC INVITED TO MUSICALES

Every One Interested in Music Urged to Attend

The concert which will be given at the Edison building Friday evening and which is open to the public, will be a very interesting one. It will be given by pupils of Mrs. Zefer Algotts Sparrow. Several of the numbers are from the Music Memory contest.

The program as arranged by Mrs. Sparrow will be: Red Riding Hood, Barbara Moore; waltz, Indian Dance, Olivia Panoit; Shepherdess, Pastoral Dance, Rhoda Moore; March of the Gnomes, Temple Matthews; Waltz of Forest Sprite (March) Russell Reed; Love's Response, Pomponette, Jeanette Blanchard; Spring Dance, Fairy Voices, Nora Giesing; Minuet in F (Mozart); The Wild Horseman (Schuman), The Happy Farmer (Schuman), Helen Olson; Brownies' Minuet (Bach); Dance of the Elves, Isabel Moore; Scarf Dance (Chaminade), Theme (Tschakowsky), Marguerite Schlar; In the Woodland Lark's Song (Tschakowsky), Dorothy Sproule; Consolation (Mendelssohn), Melody (Cadman), Frances Riley; Minuet in G (Beethoven), Waltz (Borowski), Sonatina (Clementi), Cecilia Mae Fischer.

Mrs. Walter Fisher has arranged for a matinee concert to be given at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the John Muir junior, high school. It is for the people interested in the Music Memory contest and all the pupils of the schools and their friends, and the friends are invited.

The program for this concert will be: Barcarole (Offenbach), Mrs. J. Courtland Scott, Mrs. Walter Fisher; By the Waters of Minnetonka (Laurance), By the Land of the Sky Blue Water (Cadman), Mrs. J. Courtland Scott; My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice (Saint Saens); Berceuse from Jocelyn, Elegie (Massenet), Mrs. Valentine; Minuet in G (Beethoven), To a Wild Rose (MacDowell), Traumerie (Schumann), Largo (Handel), Christina May Crum.

For the final concert, the Burbank Music shop, through Mr. Drengsten, has secured Nicholas Deveraux, pianist, Master Clyde Morris Gates, violinist and Andrew Tinch, tenor, to give half of the program, while Mrs. Sparrow, assisted by Vern Isom, will give the other half.

TELLS OF MUIR'S NATAL DAY

Superintendent L. F. Collins spoke today to the children of the John Muir school about John Muir, whose birthday anniversary is Saturday. The man who wrote about the "Mountains of California," "My First Summer in Sierra" and "The Yosemite" was born April 21, 1838, in Scotland. He lived in Scotland until he was 21 years old.

Through his writings he has awakened an interest in the Sierras and it is said, is largely through him that Yosemite and the Sequoia national parks were founded.

He studied the mountains, living alone in them for ten years. He discovered 65 separate glaciers and mapped out all the upper plateau, the encyclopedia tells us.

Million Awaits Him in Sweden, Bus Boy Now to Learn Hotel Business

Carl E. Bergson, eighteen years old, is heir to a millionaire's fortune. When he came to this country he and his mother stopped at one of the exclusive hotels in New York City. He intends to become a hotel man and decided to learn the business by beginning at the bottom. Carl and his mother now have an apartment, but when they were living in an $18 a day suite in the hotel he would leave by the front door, go to the employees' entrance, don his bottle-dressed suit and go to work, after punching the time-clock. Young Bergson's father is a high officer in the Swedish army.

LONDON COUNTS FEW FOREIGNERS

LONDON, April 19.—In all London there are less than 30,000 Russians at the present time, and they form the largest alien colony in the city. This is an increase of nearly 5,000 over the figures for 1911. London counts today 27,000 Poles, 11,000 Freshmen, and 6,750 Germans. The American colony is under 1,000.

Truths in Epigram

The more perfect the thing, the more it feels pleasure, and also pain.—Dante.

Nothing is so useless as a general maxim.—Macaulay.

Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation.—Hewitt.

I am pleased to be praised by a man whom every one praises.—Cicero.

ONE USEFUL JUNKET

There is evidence that the congressmen who went to Panama to observe the maneuvers of the fleet acquired considerable useful knowledge. They learned for one thing how necessary it would be to defend the canal in case of war. Of course nobody expects war. Nevertheless wars have arrived at the thresholds of peaceful people, and have had to be met by them. The capacity of the sea navy in this day of airplane possibilities, could not reach a wholly adequate stage, and yet a navy kept in every respect modern, would be more effective than one kept crippled and skimped. That is one lesson the congressmen got.

Moreover there must have been brought home to them a new conception of the part the navy plays. They observed it in performance of duties patterned after those that would prevail in war. They became in some degree familiar with the high purpose of the officers, the devotion of the men. It is probable that hereafter when the navy shall make a proper request for support, it will not be viewed askance, as a beggar, and handed a begrudged dol of alms.

Ignorance concerning naval affairs has been strongly marked even among statesmen. A story is told of one of the early secretaries who somewhat gingerly walked up the gang plank, and stood for the first time on the deck of a man-of-war. He looked about, curiously, finally peering down the hatchway. "Why," he exclaimed, amazed, "the dern thing's hollow!"

Probably congressmen have been somewhat better informed, and yet there was much for them to learn. It was an excellent plan to give them an object lesson.

RED PLOT UNCOVERED

It is said that a plot of the reds against the government has been exposed at the capital. Even if this is true it is nothing about which to get excited. This is a large nation, and rather set in its ways. Of the hundred millions or more comprised in it, perhaps a million might be classed as reds. By this is meant the element so dissatisfied with the government that they desire to overthrow it. The truth is that they make a pitiful show. They have not the brains to overturn anything. The fact that they desire to treat the government in this summary fashion, is an excellent recommendation for the government. Part of the duty of organized society is to control those of its members prone to criminality, or weak of mind. The exercise of this control occasionally irks the objects of it; hence the reds, so-called.

It is in Russia that communism has been permitted to flourish. The awful results the world beholds with horror and loathing. Yet it is out of that unspeakable regime of iniquity there emanates much of the influence that shapes the activity of the bolshevik in the United States—the "red," the malcontent, the potential incendiary, and thrower of bombs. That Russia should be regarded as a pattern by anybody argues that person the victim of a most singular obsession. Not the slightest indication exists that the control of affairs is to be vested in the hands of a lunatic band. The discovery of one of their plots merely means that a new batch of unfortunates is in need of restraint, in prison or in asylum according to the virulence of the attack from which its members suffer.

INSANE CRIMINALS

Four men recently escaped from an eastern asylum in which they had been confined as criminally insane. They got out by a perfectly contrived plan, with full view to making their absence permanent, and the act of departure safe. They were well armed. At this writing three of the four have been captured, but only after desperate resistance, conducted as sane convicts might have done it. They were overpowered by numbers. The episode calls attention to the possibility that men may be sent to an asylum only because they have an influence that prevents sending them to prison. The asylum may be their choice, as affording more chances of a delivery from restraint.

When men are able to do as this quartet did, it is unfair to society, and unfair to other criminals, lacking advantage of a pull, that they should be classed as lunatics and not as dangerous criminals. The affair brings up in new form the fallacy of insanity as a plea. The expert alienist, retained for the purpose, will build up a saving case of mental irresponsibility out of any set of symptoms, or any manner of conduct. When the jury can be induced to believe this set of experts, who may outweigh the other side numerically, the defendant gets off entirely, or he evades the prison, where he would have been secure, his detention promoting also the security of the public.

That men able to plan escape, and carry out the plan logically, are not capable of knowing right from wrong, is a theory established only in the minds of individuals receiving fees for entertaining such belief.

BEING PREMIER

Doubtless Lloyd George enjoyed the experience of being premier of England. He held the position when the responsibility was at its height. When he was released from his duties, he fell to the task of making the path of his successor devoid of roses, but abundantly thorned. This also he seems to enjoy, none the less perhaps because able to get space rates for his irritating essays. Bonar Law is having a hard time, thanks to inevitable conditions mainly, but thanks in part to George.

There has been a great and wholly undignified rumpus in the commons. No such scenes ever were witnessed in congress, even where there have been brief periods of turbulence. To find a record of violence in the American deliberative body, one would have to go back to Civil War days, and the incident of the bludgeoning of Sumner by Brooks. Rough-and-tumble fights are held to be bad form. A pugilistic member probably would be subject to expulsion. To apply a similar rule to the late fracas in the commons would reduce the membership below the point of effectiveness.

Part of the same unpleasantness was a defeat of the government concerning a comparatively trivial measure. It is customary in case of a defeat, for the government to retire, but the Bonar Law cabinet deems the subject-matter of the defeat too unimportant to be given such significance. Therefore it clings to office; maybe in order that if there are to be more fistic events, it may be there to see.

TOMORROW

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Except death, tomorrow is the one thing that is certain.

Yet the world is full of people who refuse to recognize this obvious fact. They are like the idiots who go to sea without life preservers or who attempt to cross the desert without water.

I'm thinking of this just now because in the last few days I have seen a number of women wringing their hands. Tomorrow had arrived and they were unable to meet its problems. Mostly they had counted on provision coming through chance—something like the manna that was showered from heaven on the Children of Israel. In their childhood they had imbibed heavily the raven feeding idea without, apparently realizing that in this day of the active destruction of animal and bird life, the ravens are in luck if they can feed their own young.

One woman had depended on a broken husband until he gave out and went under. It hurt his pride to have her work, and so she had sat still. But time never sits still, and so tomorrow came and the woman had nothing wherewith to meet it. Another had depended on her children growing up before tomorrow arrived; time flies faster than youngsters grow and so tomorrow, arriving on schedule time, found her with herself and her children to feed and no training of any kind to help her feed them.

In talking with these women about their difficulties I asked each of them: "Did you not know that there was no provision for your future? How did you expect to meet it?"

One replied that she had counted on the death of an aunt who "was sick enough to have died ten years ago." Another faced me with the indignant declaration that "I never had to work, and when a lady is in trouble somebody should help her."

Last of all came a man. He had spent his youth in carousals and with it his money. When prohibition came in his money gave out and he called to ask me where he could get a foothold. He was weakened by dissipation and his body was soft with decayed tissues.

"How have you managed to live all these years?" I inquired.

"Well, my brother helped me some and my wife had a bit of money."

"Didn't you know there would be a tomorrow?" I asked. "How did you expect to live when it came?"

"Why—well, I was not strong in my youth and nobody thought I'd live to middle age. But I am willing to work."

"That's not it. What can you do—and do acceptably?"

"Anything that is simple and light."

"The world is full of men who can do that. Their rewards are as simple and light as their abilities."

Now these people were all agreed on one point—they scorned charity. But they did not consider support from overburdened families or relatives in the light of charity.

Probably most of them will eat the bitter crumbs of charity before they find anything they can do for which anybody will pay.

It's the old story; but why not bear down on the need of human intelligence? The coming of tomorrow is certain and the needs of those who meet it fully as certain. Prepare for your guest; if he does not arrive you can feast off the viands. But tomorrow will surely arrive.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

USING THE COMMA

(Find the error in this article.)

"The Right Word" has already explained some uses of the comma. A few more follow.

In direct address, commas are used to set off the name of the person of thing addressed; as, "I asked you, John, if you had seen my glasses"; "Come, blessed rain, and save our crops."

The comma is used to set off an introductory phrase when the resulting break adds to the clearness of a sentence; as, Upon reaching the house, his mission was over.

Like clauses (main divisions of sentences) are usually separated by commas. These clauses are joined by such conjunctions as and, but, neither, nor, or. Examples: He fought his way across the stream, but he was too weak to crawl up on shore; Neither could he lift the rock alone, nor could he get anyone to help him. The writer believes, however, that there are many sentences of this type, in which the comma could be omitted; as, Frank ran swiftly to the shore of the lake and Charles hurried to get a rope. The omission of a comma where it has formerly been required by convention is largely dependent upon resulting clearness and personal taste.

The discussion of the comma will be continued.

Vocabulary

"He will ferret out the guilty ones. I mean that he will pursue them into their hidden retreat and find them by keen and persevering search."

Queries

Mary A. Brown, New York: "In addressing letters to a firm or corporation, should we say 'Dear Sirs' or 'Gentlemen'?" Answer: The customary form is "Gentlemen." An interrogation point (?) should have ended Miss Brown's sentence.

Olivia Valties, Chicago: "I am studying English and also I am a constant reader of your column, so I am venturing to ask the following questions: Is it correct to say, 'That man has a nice presence'? Is the following sentence correct: 'You thought to much, that is why you have your head empty'?" Answer: Nice is not the right word in your first sentence. Pleading would have been a better choice. Nice means characterized by discrimination or judgment; dainty, modest, scrupulous; delicate, subtle; exactly fitted, apt, accurate; delicately constructed, fragile, tender. The second sentence is incoherent, and "to" should have been spelled "too."

THE LISTENING POST

By JAMES W. FOLEY

Back of the symphony is genius. Which is specialized energy unremittingly applied.

The notes of music are borne to the ears of us and bring us delight.

But back of that is the unremitting rehearsal of the orchestra.

And back of that is the study of the director.

And back of that again is the genius and labor of the master.

So we hear only the exquisitely rendered music.

And too often we take no thought of all that lies behind it.

We accept what is given us.

Without a fine appreciation of all the cost of the giving.

Back of the epic is the toil and labor and genius of the poet.

Long days and nights of study and toil and effort.

Weary brain and racked imagination and exhausted spirit and vitality.

That something beautiful be produced.

Back of the truth of the teacher and philosopher lies unremitting study.

Self sacrifice.

Self denial.

Sometimes perhaps poverty and suffering and humiliation and sometimes scourging and death.

Back of the choice and ripened fruit lie long years perhaps of experimentation.

Of cultivation and selection and warfare with attacking pests.

And then pruning and training and spraying and care.

Back of the choice fruit is unremitting labor and care.

Back of the great man lie years of struggle and trial and labor and toil.

Great men do not spring full armed into being.

They are tried by suffering.

They are tuned and tempered with fire and temptation and sometimes bitter experience.

Written into a few words of the Gettysburg speech were the blood and tears of many years.

Warfare and death and weeping and days and nights of heart-breaking wonder and sorrow and care.

The speech is read often.

How often do we look back of it to see what bitter suffering was in a human heart to make it?

So back of beauty and harmony and literature and staccato and government lies struggle.

It is so in the world of agriculture.

It is so in the world of statecraft.

It is so in the world of government.

It is so in the world of art.

It is so in all things worth while.

What mighty struggles lay back of the mountains reared up from the molten earth!

What roaring and hissing and terrifying agonies lay back of the ocean finally brought down to its bed from cloud and mist!

Songs of the Poets

Song—By Edward Coate Pinkey

We break the glass, whose sacred wine To some beloved health we drain, Least future pledges, less divine, Should e'er the hallowed toy profane;

And still I broke a heart that poured Its tide of feelings out for thee, In draughts, by after-times deplored, Yet dear to memory.

But still the old impassioned ways And habits of my mind remain, And still unhappy light displays Thine image chambered in my brain,

And still it looks as when the hours Went by like flocks of singing birds, Or that soft chain of spoken flowers And airy gems—thy words.

ANY PATH IS GOOD ENOUGH

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I AM in receipt of a pamphlet reprinted from the Gazette of Berkeley, Cal., in which William Henry Smyth advocates a "Federation of Nations" to take the place of the "League of Nations."

Some time ago President Harding urged that the United States should participate in an international court organized for the purpose of settling disputes between nations by other means than war.

Woodrow Wilson, when he was president, advocated the League of Nations, in which most of the nations of the world with the exception of Russia, Germany, Turkey, the United States and one or two others joined.

I have no particular preference. Any one of these or any other movement to induce the nations of the earth to substitute the due processes of order for the savage method of warfare in maintaining order will receive my vote.

The success of the democratic or the republican party in the United States, or the saving of the face of M. Poincare in France or Lloyd George in England mean nothing in my young life.

Whatever small influence I may possess has been steadily exerted toward upholding the truth that war is simply an automatic product of the absence of authoritative international law.

There can be no question that wars, including past wars and preparations for future wars, compose nine-tenths of the burden that is causing the world to stagger.

The officials of our own government declare that 85 per cent. of our taxation goes to wars, past, present and future.

How any person can be indifferent toward an effort to do away with the old system and substitute some sort of world federation with the preponderating armed forces in control of an international police, is too much for my feeble understanding.

There is no other way out of the war business and, as far as my reading and observation go, no other way has ever been suggested.

The way to stop street brawls in a city is to take away the guns from the citizens and hand them over to the police. No city has ever suggested any other way for preserving order. Precisely the same reasoning applies to the world.

If I have said all this before, my only reason for saying it again is that a certain portion of the press of the country persists in a vicious propaganda against world unity.

I am for any scheme that shall accomplish the desired result. It makes no difference to me who advocates it or what part of the political woods it comes from.

I postulate the United States of the World. I am as indifferent to the particular church any one selects as his road to heaven.

Any path is good enough that leads home.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

SEARCH FOR AN ISSUE

(Brooklyn Times)

It newspaper dispatches from the President's vacation haunts may be believed he and his political advisers are considering making law and order one of the issues of the campaign of 1924.

How will they make it an issue? The democratic party has not aligned itself, en masse or through any actions of its leaders, as opposed to law and order.

Mr. Harding's party is not the sole defender of the stability of society.

Whatever there may be to the slogan of law and order was used in boosting Governor Coolidge into the vice-presidential chair.

We presume that Mr. Harding has special reference to the enforcement of the Volstead prohibition law. He has had one conference of governors at Washington, and has announced his purpose to call another.

But faith in the idea of prohibition has not been copyrighted by Mr. Harding's party. The solidly democratic south is as strong for it as Mr. Harding's middle west.

It the President undertakes to make that issue prominent in the pre-convention campaign he may meet with opposition from Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who has carried out effect, so far as law can do so, his campaign promise to drive the liquor dealers from the state.

The Brooklyn Times may or may not support Mr. Harding in his seeking a re-nomination. Whatever it may do it will ask of the candidate a real issue, not a platitud.

In a recent baby show more than half the entrants came out tagged as perfect, and the mothers of the others knew their own were perfect, too.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

W. J. Ghent of Los Angeles has written a book of intense interest and high value. "The Reds Bring Reaction" is the title of the volume, a small, precise, concise and intrinsically great work. It is the clearest exposition that has been made of the circumstances that have led to present world conditions of confused thought. Accuracy is a religion to Ghent.

Every statement he makes has been carefully weighed and verified. He is dispassionate throughout, generally serious, although there is the relief that is afforded by occasional touches of humor. Every indictment drawn up by him is sustained by facts. He makes no guesses, indulges in no wild conjectures; keeps ever in bounds, calm, forceful and convincing; not afraid, however, to set down a truth, regardless of the crushing effect on the pet pretense of individual or group. In every way a strong and valuable book. And it meets a specific demand for information. Here is a world forced to listen to the talk of revolution, or as Ghent terms it the "revolutionary phrase."

Yet the reds make no progress; nothing is overthrown. Only in Russia is the proletarian in "power," and there its enslavement is complete, its power a fiction.

Mr. Ghent was a socialist while the socialist party was an organization entitled to respect. He was recognized as one of the brainy men, an intellectual leader. The party, as war approached became disloyal, and such men as Ghent and Spargo, good citizens before socialists, were forced by conscience to leave it. Since then it has drifted, split into factions, upheld the worst social elements in their most evil plottings. It was pro-German, and it later became pro-bolshevik. It was ready to take orders from Moscow. It was ready to affiliate with any malevolent force that promised turmoil. A branch of it advocated sabotage. The book gives details, the naked verities. It is not based on rumor.

The I. W. W., gone now into decadence, scared out of its activities; the avowed reds, the super-radicals, all shades of radicals, including the parlor bolshevik, are subjected to analysis as to conduct and motives. This analysis is keen, unanswerable and always fair. The author, detesting the practices of some of the classes he mentions, sounds no note of hate; no note of fear either as to impending calamity. The malign elements are not potent. Each small unit is for itself. Each hopes to be the one to grasp the reins, largely in order to be able to hang dis-senters.

Ghent affirms and succeeds in showing that the reds themselves have caused the reaction that has cost them all hope of ascendancy and rendered their ambitions vain.

Of course the author already has been the object of attack from the sewer rats of journalism. The sorry sheets that function on the mental plane of the soapless yowler of the street corner, have taken a rap at him. For this doubtless he will be grateful.

The author's compliments are paid to the weekly publications that seek to undermine the government, and to exalt the cause of the traitors they represent, while posing as American.

So much is packed between the covers that it is impossible to give more here than a suggestion of the content.

Personally Ghent entertains the doctrine that made him a socialist. The principles he advocated then are dear to him still. He writes in advocacy of ideal socialism. In his present attitude he does not have to renounce his old beliefs. His position is consistent. He is not himself a reactionary, but he is writing to explain reaction. He succeeds admirably.

Just at this time it seems appropriate to quote from the late Ambrose Bierce. Save that differences in terminology prevail at this day, his remarks, written perhaps three decades ago, fit into the present exactly. In his "Shadows on the Dial" is this:

"There is a deal of confusion in the use of the words 'Socialist,' 'Anarchist' and 'Nihilist.' Even the last himself commonly knows with as little accuracy what he is, as the rest of us know why he is. The socialist believes that most human affairs should be regulated and managed by the state—the government—that is to say, the majority. Our own system has many socialistic features and the trend of republican government is all that way. The anarchist is the kind of lunatic who believes that all crime is the effect of laws forbidding it—as the pig that breaks into the kitchen garden is created by the dog that chews its ear! The anarchist favors abolition of all law and frequently belongs to an organization that secures his allegiance by solemn oaths and dreadful penalties. 'Nihilism' is a name given by Turgeneff to the general body of Russian discontent which finds expression in antagonizing authority and killing authorities. Constructive politics would seem, as yet, to be a cut above the Nihilist's intelligence; he is essentially a destructionist. He is so diligently engaged in unweeding the soil that he has not given a thought as to what he will grow there. Nihilism may be described as a policy of assassination, tempered by reflections upon Siberia. American sympathy with it is the offspring of an unholy union between the tongue of a liar and the ear of a dupe."

Substitute "Bolshevik" for "Nihilist" and the present situation would seem to have been covered some years in advance of arrival.

A chief of police in New Mexico was slain by an automobilist whose machine bore a California plate. In the desire to arrest the driver for speeding, the chief is said to have leaped to the running board.

If this is true, the chances are that he was shot as a bandit. California drivers are exceedingly chary of strangers who leap on the running board.

When a man of large means is caught as a bootlegger, and found to be a bootlegger, his punishment should be at least as heavy as that of the poor man in similar predicament. This view is being quite widely taken now, and the rich transgressor can't get over feeling aggrieved about it.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

One reason why I haven't told this story before is that I didn't believe it. I had to check up my facts before I ventured on it. Now that I am sure I find I am ashamed of myself. It makes me look a good deal like a loafer.

A few years ago a neighbor died on a near-by street. He was young, presumably sound, and he owned his own home. The first incredibility is that although he was married and had a mighty fine boy he carried no insurance. When the car hit him there were only a few hundred dollars in the bank. The funeral took a good part of that.

His widow was left with her home, free and clear, enough money to go on for a few months, a son in the first year of high school, and not quite all the strength she should have had. There were no relatives on either side to whom she could appeal. If she had followed the usual rule she would have sold her house and lived on the proceeds for a few years, trusting to luck or a second marriage. Or else she would have taken in roomers.

The boy saved her. He went from housekeeper to housekeeper in the neighborhood, proposing to make a daily call to do errands. He was willing to do anything from cutting the grass to matching ribbon. He was competent, active, and reliable. At first, most of the women brushed him away, but eventually he worked up a clientele that kept him busy every spare moment after school hours. As his circle and his competency increased so did his rates, although he never charged more than was fair.

"How much did you make?" I asked him.

"Enough to pay all our expenses," he said.

The point of this story to me is that if I had been left in the same fatherless fix at his age I would have curled up under a dock-leaf. I have always worked, and worked hard, but the work always had to be found for me. Some one had to say:

"Here's your job. Catch hold of the handles. Let's go."

But he confirms the theory I have always held and rarely acted on, that work is always to be found in the same block. If one but looks for it.

Leo Koehn, a Detroit youth, has been made the happiest boy in the world by the radio. Leo, who is 13, was born deaf, and doctors have failed to restore his hearing. His case had been given up as hopeless. Then a Detroit physician placed a pair of radio telephones on his head and for the first time in his life the boy heard.

TEMPERAMENT

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.
(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Temperament is one of the great puzzles of psychology. To explain it, psychologists usually resort to that convenient grab-bag, heredity. But they are much at odds as to just what inherited factors give rise to temperament.

Some are content to dismiss the problem with Jastrow's easy formula, "The temperamental is at once the generic expression of inheritance and its specific value in the individual." Others, trying to delve a little deeper, fix on this or that element in the psycho-physical organism as determining the temperament inherited.

Thus there is one group of psychologists who hold that temperament is due to a varying inheritance of instinctive tendencies. By another group inherited differences in the so-called autonomic nervous system are supposed to account for differences in temperament.

More recently it has come into fashion to link temperament with the workings of the endocrine glands. Let a man inherit a tendency for one particular gland or set of glands to function to excess, the theory runs, and he will inevitably display specific traits of one sort or another, being temperamentally bold or temperamentally timid, temperamentally joyful or temperamentally doleful, as the case may be.

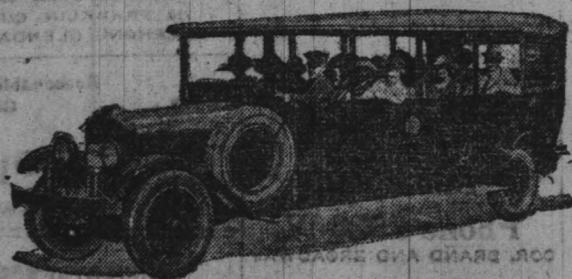

At least one psychologist—J. W. Bridges of the University of Toronto—insists that the correct explanation of temperament is found only when one recognizes that these differing theories all hold a measure of truth. So that "the inheritance of temperament is the inheritance of endocrine and automatic relationships."

But even this does not, after all, advance us very far toward clearing the mystery of temperament. Indeed, in an important sense it makes that mystery deeper. For it suggests that temperament is not the fixed, unchanging force it is commonly supposed to be.

If temperament is a matter of glandular and autonomic relationships, anything which would affect these would necessarily have a modifying effect on the temperament. And it actually is notorious that operations on this or that gland, and infection by this or that disease germ, often are followed by remarkable changes in temperament.

A similar effect may follow emotional shocks or prolonged emotional stresses. These presumably act indirectly through affecting the autonomic nervous system and the glandular organs. But this would mean that temperament was to a large extent dependent on mental as well as physical influences, and might in the last analysis be a resultant not of inheritance so much as of peculiarities acquired in the process of being born and from the environmental conditions of early life.

Which, of course, offers a more hopeful prospect than does the attribution of temperament to an unescapable heredity. Certainly it gives parents warrant for believing that, through proper pre-natal care and the shaping of a favorable home environment for their little ones, the likelihood of those little ones possessing desirable temperaments will be vastly increased.

COMES NOW THE CAL. VALENCIA ORANGE SHOW

The Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions clubs of Southern California will cooperate with the management of the third annual California Valencia Orange show in their endeavor to make the citrus exposition the greatest display of its kind ever staged in Orange county. This trip of organizations together with other clubs and societies will maintain departments or exhibits at the show which is to be held in Anaheim for nine days, commencing May 22.

Every fraternal and social organization in Southern California is to be invited by Malcolm Fraser, manager of the show, to be represented at the citrus exposition. Space is being reserved for these various associations and societies, and it is anticipated that a majority of the clubs in this territory will take advantage of the invitation. The California Valencia Orange show will be far larger this year and contain many more exhibits than the two expositions that have gone in the past. The 1923 show will bear the fruit of the interest in citrus products that has been aroused by the two previous expositions. This year, visitors to the show will see the finest example of citrus culture that has ever been produced. Several of the exhibitors have been cultivating citrus products especially for the third show and competitors for the prize awards, this year will be much keener than it was in the past.

The show will be representative of all Southern California where citrus products are grown. Approximately 100,000 square feet of floor space will be devoted to exhibits. An extensive program of amusement features which will be rendered daily will be a feature of this year's show. The opening day will be in the nature of a reception, with the entire committee and exhibitors on hand to welcome the guests. Several noted visitors will be present and they will make short addresses. The addresses will be broadcasted by radio, so that the many residents in the surrounding territory who have receiving sets may "listen in" on the exercises, though miles away.

From 3 to 5 o'clock each afternoon a special concert will be rendered which will include several well known singers and musicians. The same concert, augmented by a vaudeville program will be rendered during the evening from 7:30 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock. The famous Valencia Joy Zone, which was one of the principal sources of delight to the thousands of visitors last year, will also be a feature of the forthcoming show. It will be augmented by scores of new

JUDGMENT

The good little boy is bad sometimes
And the bad little boy is good;
Then the bad little boy is the good little boy
If he did the best he could.
And the good little boy is the bad little boy
If he does not as he should.

If the bad little boy is good sometimes,
Then he is no longer bad;
If the good little boy is bad sometimes
It is very, very sad,
There's something bad in the good little boy
That we did not know he had.

And there's something good in the bad little boy
That comes out now and then;
And nobody knows just why it is
And nobody knows just when,
It's all mixed up as you plainly see
In the world of mice and men.

The good little boy was bad today
With a frown and a blow and a cry,
And the bad little boy was good today
With a song and a merry cry,
And we call one bad and we call one good
And blest if I know why.

The bad little boy was so polite,
And the good little boy was rude,
For the good little boy was a bad little boy
And the bad little boy was good.
Yet we call one good and we call one bad,
I wonder if we should.

mirth-provoking novelties. Here, those who tire of viewing the hundreds of examples of Southern California citrus culture, may seek and find diversions of various kinds. The nine days the show will be open will be dedicated to various associations, organizations and groups of citizens who had a part in making this and the previous shows possible. Days will be dedicated to the merchants and manufacturers, the editors of Southern California newspapers for the generous "boosting" the school children who play an important part in the citrus industry, the clubwomen, the fraternal organizations and associations, the civic bodies and municipal officials and the various war veterans organizations. One day will be known as "Los Angeles County day," when special attention will be paid to visitors from Los Angeles and another will be
